House Passes City Charter Amendments

Amendments to the Edmonton city charter, paving the way for a new civic bond issue up to $1,770,000, were approved by the Legislature Friday afternoon in committee of the whole, and reported for third reading.

Friday morning, the charter amendments were up before the legislative municipal law committee, and received approval by that body, of which A. E. Fee, Social Credit, Sedgewick, is chairman.

OTHER PROVISIONS

Besides the amendments which clear the way for the city to refund its debt, others authorize the city to place the value of its utilities on the civic assessment roll; to extend the franchise of Northwestern Utilities Ltd. for ten years beyond Nov. 1945, when the present franchise will expire; to clarify the charter concerning debenture calling provisions, and to make the annual civic election day the first Wednesday in November.

The charter went through the House committee Friday afternoon with but one amendment, which had been requested by Thomas Garside, K.C., city solicitor, which clarifies the types of security which may be offered by the city on a temporary loan.

A. V. Bourcier, Social Credit, Lac Ste. Anne, objected to one clause of the charter amendment bill, which reads as follows: "Where the interest for one year or more on the debentures issued under a bylaw and the principal of any debenture which has matured has been paid by the city, the bylaw and the debentures issued under it shall be valid and binding upon the city."

MOTION REJECTED

Mr. Bourcier moved deletion of the clause, but the House voted his motion down.

The charter amending bill passed through the committee with no further opposition.

Hugh John Macdonald, K.C., Liberal, Edmonton, piloted the city bill through the committee stage. James Hartley, Social Credit M.L.A., for Macleod, is chairman of the committee of the whole.

Monday, the municipal law committee will convene at the Legislative Buildings at 10 a.m., to consider charter amendments to the Red Deer and Wetaskiwin charters.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Yugoslav partisans have captured the islands of Rab and Pag, off the Croatian coast south of Fiume, Marshal Josip (Tito) Brozovic announced today.

His communique broadcast by the "Free Yugoslav" radio reported that partisan units operating along the Croatian coast had captured Zlobin and Pias, and were exerting heavy pressure in the direction of Kraljevica, 14 miles southeast of Fiume.

Yesterday's communique had announced a landing on another island in the Adriatic, Brač, south of Spalato, off the Dalmatian coast, and said the Yugoslav forces had attacked the town of Milna.

NAPLES, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Count Carlo Sforza, former Italian foreign minister who returned recently from exile in the United States, has declared his "profound disagreement" with Prime Minister Churchill's proposal that Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio and King Victor Emmanuel remain in power at least until the fall of Rome.

Declaring that dissatisfied masses of Italians "would go to Communism," Sforza said Mr. Churchill's Tuesday speech had caused the "deepest dismay among millions of Italians."

Jap Navy Hideout Remains Mystery

By WILLIAM F. TYREE

PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 26.—The whereabouts of the Japanese navy remained a mystery today after U.S. officials disclosed that American warships failed to find the long missing enemy fleet at the Mariana Islands in their attack Tuesday when they destroyed 135 Japanese planes and sank two ships.

Rear Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, commander of the naval force which carried the planes for the assault on the Marianas, apparently had hoped to catch units of the Japanese navy hiding in Saipan, one of the last naval bases between the enemy's island empire and the Japanese homeland.

Either the Japanese fleet was not at Saipan, or the enemy, detecting the Americans' approach, sent the naval units scurrying for safety at some other bases, deeper within Japan's defenses.

Rumor Election Planned After London Meeting

By Premier King

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The French-language newspaper Le Droit said yesterday in a newspaper story that, according to "rumors" in political circles, Prime Minister Mackenzie King is preparing to call a general election after his return from the Empire Conference, which is expected to be held in London next June.

Le Droit said that before going to the polls it will be "necessary" for Mr. King to revamp his cabinet and fill most of the vacancies in the senate, in the courts and in higher ranks of the civil service.

POST FOR BERTRAND

"The choice of Fisheries Minister Bertrand to fill one of the three new ministries to be set up by the government, this session remains in the order of probability," the newspaper said. It continued:

"It is reported that Air Minister Power may accept a seat in the senate unless he is offered a judgeship. And the rumor has been resurrected that Pensions Minister Mackenzie will become clerk of the house of commons."

"If perchance the war should end before the calling of elections, Justice Minister St. Laurent would retire from active politics."

"There are various indications that the federal elections will precede by several weeks the Quebec provincial elections."

15,000 Nazis Are Casualties In Beachhead

By BELMAN MORIN

ALGIERS, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Allied beachhead at Anzio has drawn into action German divisions from the enemy's anti-invasion forces in the west and has cost the enemy in the neighborhood of 15,000 casualties since the landings were made on Jan. 22, an Allied headquarters spokesman said today.

The losses included 2,816 prisoners.

German forces in northern Italy and Yugoslavia were weakened through the necessity of forming a complete new army to combat the beachhead, and the enemy's stores of material and armament were depleted, the spokesman added.

Three reinforced German infantry regiments were brought all the way from Germany proper to help swell this new army, the 14th, it was stated.

The commentator expressed the belief that Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, the German commander in Italy, had hoped to score a spectacular success for its effect on German morale when he began his terrific drive against the beachhead week before last.

The political importance of holding Rome as long as possible also was a major factor in the fierce German reaction to the Allied invasion, said the spokesman, whose name cannot be given.

POSITION NOT GOOD

With 10 full divisions tied down at the beachhead front and repulsed in two full-scale efforts to smash the Allied lines, the German positions cannot now be considered satisfactory, he said.

Although the Germans concentrated five divisions on an extremely narrow front (previous dispatches said about four miles), and supported them with tremendous artillery and dive-bomber strength, and at least one battalion of tanks brought from Germany, they met with a smashing defeat and terrible casualties, the spokesman declared.

The attacks only gained about a mile and a quarter, then were held, he explained.

Says Finns Invited To Peace Parley

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Russia has invited Finland to send a peace mission to Moscow but the Soviets emphasized that the Finns must not help Germany during negotiations, a neutral source reported today.

Helsinki already has informed Berlin officially of its desire to quit the war if terms are acceptable and is now carrying on negotiations with the Germans to effect an exit from the conflict, this source reported.

He said the biggest question concerning the Finns was how to keep Germany "from doing something which might alter the entire situation" during peace discussions with the Soviets.

Finland has not disclosed to Berlin even a broad outline of Russia's terms for an armistice, it was understood.

The neutral source believed that the odds now are 3-to-2 that Finland will make peace.

NEW DELHI, Feb. 26.—British and Indian troops of the 14th Army have won full control of the vital Ngakyedauk Pass and the Japanese have been driven from the main crest of the Mayu mountains, it was announced today in a communique on the Burma fighting.

Meanwhile, the Royal Air Force concentrated on the Maungdaw-Buthidaung road and low level bombing of a tunnel by Fitt-Lt. G. W. Macdonald, of Wanhnam, near Peace River, Alta., and Sqdn.-Ldr. D. R. Gibbs of London, is described as "the most daring flying of this campaign."

Control of the Ngakyedauk Pass was gained when Scottish armored patrols made contact with the Seventh Indian Division, which had resisted Japanese onslaughts for 17 days. The Scots broke through after assaulting Japanese positions that had dominated the pass.

Advance columns of Lt.-Gen. W. J. Slim's 14th Army are advancing from the north into the area of main enemy resistance, the communique by Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters said. Fighting was described as "severe," but all counter-attacks by the Japanese have been repulsed.

G. Hansell (N.D., Macleod) urging an independent board of control radio and the relations of the CBC to private stations.

Many other members participated in the debate, full reports of which will be found on page 3.

Williams Beats Manahan 13 to 12

Cliff Manahan and his Royal club curlers suffered their first defeat in thirty games today, when Glen Williams, southern Alberta champion, defeated the northern Alberta Consols representative 13-12 in the first of a best of three series. The second game got underway at the Royal rink at 1 p.m., and the third, if necessary, will start at 4 o'clock.

Williams got the bulge on the Edmontonians in the early stages and led six to one after five ends. However, Manahan came back strong on fine curling by himself and Lloyd McIntyre and they were two up going home.

The southern skip turned on the heat on the 12th end, however, making two brilliant shots to score three and take the contest.

Score by ends:

Finish Off Last Hopes Of Reich Maintaining Equality With Allies

LONDON, Feb. 26.—A high spokesman for the United States strategic air forces in Europe said today that this week's massive air blows had finished off Germany's last hopes of maintaining a successful aerial defence against the Allies.

The spokesman, who must remain unidentified and cannot be quoted directly, said he did not believe the statement was too optimistic in the light of the known results of the unprecedented offensive against Germany.

Although the battle is not over by any means, he said at a press conference, the last six days of attacks have been so concentrated that if they are followed up properly they are likely to prove disastrous to the German air force.

A preliminary estimate based on photographs indicated that as of today, compared with Jan. 1, Germany had only 20 per cent of its twin-engine and 40 per cent of her single-engine fighter production in operation.

Incidental to this main attack against Nazi fighter production, American and British bombers were said to have destroyed 25 per cent of Germany's heavy bomber production and 60 per cent of her transport plan output.

British Hit Japs With Full Weight

By FRANK L. MARTIN

AT BRITISH 14TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN BURMA, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The full weight of the British forces in Southern Burma was turned yesterday on the remnants of an original Japanese force of 7,000 men which was cut almost in half after fighting for 20 days behind the British lines at Arakan.

British and Indian infantry supported by artillery and tanks hurled the Japanese away from the vital Ngakyedauk mountain pass and supply road which crosses the Mayu mountain ridge.

Since their infiltration of the British lines, Feb. 4, upward of 1,000 Japanese have been killed and an estimated 2,000 wounded.

The 5th Indian Division which formed the spearhead of the attacking British troops has driven one of the strongest Japanese guerrilla units north from Ngakyedauk Pass and away from the British and Japanese lines, making it difficult for this force to survive.

five fighters of the Italian-based force and 30 bombers and three fighters of the British-based formations.

United States air forces shot down 142 German planes yesterday for a six-day bag of 641 in the record offensive.

A communique announcing the results of yesterday's daylight battles said the Nazis fought furiously "in a vain effort to protect vital remnants of German fighter production"—a significant disclosure that the week-long offensive had reduced Adolf Hitler's plane production facilities to "remnants."

The official announcement said pictures made during the concerted attacks from Britain and Italy on Regensburg, Augsburg, Stuttgart and Furtth "show good results."

Battling desperately to save the shreds of their aircraft plants, the Germans sent up 250 to 300 fighter planes to challenge the raiders from Italy, today's communique said.

The clandestine Radio Atlantic reported that Allied planes already have destroyed or rendered useless 35 per cent. of all assembly and spare part factories in the Reich. Adolf Hitler has called an emergency meeting of his Luftwaffe and armament chiefs to discuss special measures to protect the remaining factories, the broadcast said.

Says Mann Act
Does Not Apply
To Chaplin Case

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Charlie Chaplin's attorney filed a demurrer yesterday to indictments charging the actor with Mann Act violations, on the ground that the federal law was intended to prevent commercial vice and traffic in women, and not to govern private acts.

The attorney, Jerry Giesler, also filed a motion to quash the indictments, charging that women were discriminated against in not having been permitted to serve on the federal grand jury which returned them.

Judge J. F. T. O'Connor continued the hearing on both the motion to quash and the demurrer until Saturday.

In its ruling, the National Board said the increase had been made to bring Victoria rates in line with those paid in Vancouver. Previously, the Victoria rate was 90 cents an hour.

While the national board confirmed the new rate for Victoria carpenters it expressed criticism of earlier action of the British Columbia board in granting Vancouver carpenters a 10-cent increase to the $1 rate.

Kiwanis Reports
Contest Interest

Officials of the Kiwanis Club reported Saturday that widespread interest was being displayed among the young people of the city in the annual bird contest.

Every year, millions of insects, their eggs, and larvae, are eaten by such birds as the Chickadee, Robin, Flycatcher, Swallow and Woodpecker.

These insects, which multiply so rapidly and in such immense numbers, would devour all the vegetation in our fields and forests were it not for these birds. The farmer finds that in his war with the insects, he has a host of allies who are working from daylight until dawn to help him fight against these enemies. Among the most important of these allies are the insect eating birds upon which the farmer depends to protect his crops, so he naturally encourages them to live on the farm.

During the nesting season when insects are the most plentiful, and are doing the most damage, the birds begin insect hunting before daylight, and work busily until after dark carrying the food to their hungry nestlings.

Young birds in the nest, in order to grow more, must eat more in proportion to their size than the old birds. For this reason, the parent birds will build their nest close to the garden and field where insects destroy the growing plants.

A few pairs of robins have been known to eat all the cut worms in a large patch that otherwise would have cut down all the young plants.

One man watched thirty-two adult Purple Martins (which are large Swallows) all one day, and counted the number of times they went to feed their young with insects. The total number of times was 3,227; so from this, you can realize what great quantities these Swallows destroy. The more Swallows you have about your home in spring and summer, the fewer flies and mosquitoes you will have.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Navy Secretary Frank Knox saw possibilities last night the Japanese fleet has withdrawn either to its home waters or to the Philippines.

His opinion was given in discussing an announcement by the United States Pacific fleet which said few enemy ships were found at Sapan, in the Marianas, when an American force raided there after having attacked the major enemy naval base at Truk.

Knox also said at a press conference he considered it "amazing" that although Japanese planes attacked the American force all night off Sapan they failed to hit a single United States vessel.

Yanks Throw

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 26.—American troops holding the right flank of the Anzio beachhead below Rome have thrown back another German attack four miles from the coast, it was announced today.

The enemy thrust was another in a series of light attacks which have probed nearly all key points around the 15-mile perimeter of the Fifth Army's beachhead as the Germans sought a soft spot or hoped to lure Allied strength from the point of the intended main attack.

Ten German divisions—100,000 men—were reported massing for a third major attack on the Allied positions. Meanwhile, enemy attempts to infiltrate the Anglo-American lines continued along the Anzio road in the ravine cut areas southwest of Aprilia from which both previous big attacks came.

8TH ARMY ACTIVITY

On the British-Canadian Eighth Army front troops patrolling north of Arielli clashed with the enemy, causing some casualties. British artillery broke up an enemy raid in the Orsogna area and at another point near Orsogna, the enemy made three night attacks against British troops. All were thrown back. An Indian patrol reported that it had killed a German officer and 12 soldiers, capturing one.

Germans on the Cassino front were repulsed when they attempted another attack on French positions on Hill 915, a mile west of Trele. There were the usual patrol and artillery exchanges on the windy, cloudy front, but no action of a major nature.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(AP)—In an unusual procedure, reserved only for the gravest crises in Japanese events, the cabinet of Premier Hideko Tojo met at the Imperial palace to pass stringent new regulations designed to strengthen the war effort, Tokyo radio announced yesterday.

The Tokyo reports, recorded by U.S. government monitors, said "an outline of emergency management" had been agreed upon by the cabinet and measures were prepared to concentrate the entire strength of the nation on increased fighting power.

Wounded Britons,
Cut Off by Japs,
Flown to Safety

BRITISH 14TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN BURMA, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A dozen United States flying sergeants piloting tiny army liaison planes evacuated 400 wounded British and Indian soldiers cut off by enemy action on the Arakan front in Burma, it was learned yesterday. They flew two-seated planes nearly 1,000 miles in short hops from their home base to a few miles behind the British lines.

They made several trips a day across the Mayu mountain ridge to an emergency landing strip inside the British camp, returning with one stretcher case or two less severely injured soldiers crowded into a single seat.

U.K. Labor Party
Reviewing Stand
On Election Truce

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The British Labor Party's attitude to the electoral truce and post-war policy is being reviewed at a three-day "stock-taking" conference which opened today.

Joining in these talks are three labor members of the war cabinet, Clement Attlee, Lord President of the Council, Labor Minister Bevin and Home Secretary Morrison.

The party is committed to support the Coalition government and maintain the electoral truce where by parties in the Coalition agree not to oppose each other at by-elections. Since the last Labor nomination, however, loyalty to the truce has been strained by success of Independent candidates in winning by-elections or polling large votes.

Extend Legal Aid
To Armed Forces

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The defence department last night announced an extension of the system of legal aid available for some time to personnel of active units and formations of the Canadian Army, and the provision of legal aid for their dependents.

To obtain this service, arranged recently with the Canadian Bar Association, a soldier must apply in writing to his commanding officer, giving details of the case and the relief to which he considers himself entitled.

Soldiers' dependents may apply to the nearest dependents' advisory committee of the Dependents' Board of Trustees for similar consideration.

Except in cases involving large sums of money or extensive litigation, or where the applicant is able to pay the usual fees, arrangements have been made for all such cases to be taken without charge, other than disbursements if any or for a reduced or nominal fee.

Reveal Roosevelt Is Taking Rest

WITH THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Although his health is generally good, President Roosevelt is taking a badly needed rest away from the White House.

By advice of his physician, the president has closed the door on all but the most vital outside contacts.

When the revolt over the tax veto broke in congress reporters who cover the White House journeyed to the president's retreat, to find that no queries or messages would be accepted there.

First disclosure that Mr. Roosevelt had slipped away from the turmoil of Washington came from the White House itself. The president's message to Senator Alben W. Barkley urging him not to resign as Democratic majority floor leader over the veto issue was delivered in writing by Presidential Press Secretary Stephen Early. This was because the president was out of town, it was explained.

Jap Interceptors
Fail to Appear
As Rabaul Raided

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Allied aircraft bombed airdromes of Rabaul, New Britain, with 33 tons of bombs Wednesday but 30 Japanese for the fourth straight day failed to send up a single interceptor, an Allied communique said today.

Ranging over the Bismarck archipelago, where Allied ships and planes are steadily neutralizing all Japanese bases, bombers also hit Hansa Bay, New Guinea, the Admiralty Islands and New Ireland.

On the northeast New Guinea coast, United States ground forces moving toward the enemy coastal base of Madang captured two small villages northwest of Sador.

Refuse Appeal

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Leave to Canadian Industries Ltd., of Montreal to appeal a Manitoba war labor board decision affecting its employees in Manitoba was refused yesterday by the national war labor board. The company had asked permission of the Manitoba board to extend payment of the cost-of-living bonus to employees earning between $300 and $350 a month.

R.C.A.F. Staffs
For Recruiting
Being Reduced

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—The R.C.A.F. announced last night that staffs of recruiting offices throughout Canada have been reduced and will be still further cut and that intake of aircrew has been temporarily slowed down but will shortly be re-established at a new level.

Stemming from recent changes in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, the statement also said:

CLOSE SOME CENTRES
1. Some smaller recruiting centres may be closed, with the territories affected being served by mobile recruiting units from adjoining establishments.

2. Recruiting of groundcrew has been curtailed.

3. Recruiting for the women's division has been temporarily suspended, but may be resumed.

The statement said that output of aircrew under the plan will remain at its present level for a considerable time because of the large number of men in training and the length of their courses.

As for groundcrew, surplus men from the staffs of schools to be closed under changes in the plan will either be posted overseas or used as replacements for personnel remustering from groundcrew to aircrew.

GET NEW DUTIES

Similarly, personnel no longer required in recruiting centres will be posted to other duties, either overseas or in Canada.

The announcement referred to recent statements on air policy in the House of Commons by Air Minister Power, in which such changes were announced.

Gracie Suspended

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Coach Larry Aurie of the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League last night announced the suspension of Bob Gracie, veteran wing and centre, for the remainder of the current season for "indifferent playing."

Aurie said the veteran of play in a dozen different National and American League clubs also was fined and will leave soon for his home in Toronto.

Much Criticism Special House Committee On CBC Policies Set Up Following Day-Long Debate

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—After an all-day debate, the Commons last night appointed a special committee on radio broadcasting to review the policies and aims of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and all related matters.

During the discussion Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, minister of war services, announced he hopes to fill the one vacancy on the board of governors next week. He said the government had not been able to appoint a general manager because it had not yet received a recommendation from the governors.

The committee comprises 23 members—17 Liberals, four Progressive Conservatives, one C.C.F. and one New Democracy. It will be the second successive session that the CBC has been reviewed by a committee.

ENDS IN CLASHES

The debate ended in clashes between Gen. LaFleche and M. J. Caldwell, C.C.F. leader, both of whom are members of the committee. Gen. LaFleche took exception to a charge by Mr. Caldwell that he had interfered last autumn in CBC management by "suspending" the program series "Of Things To Come."

Gen. LaFleche denied this and said the action was taken by the acting general manager, Dr. Augustin Frigon. He then made remarks which Mr. Caldwell construed as implying that C.C.F. members were "National Socialists" and Mr. Caldwell protested. "Either this stops or you arrest me as an enemy of this country," he said.

The incident ended with Speaker Glen stating he did not so interpret Gen. LaFleche's remarks and Mr. Caldwell asking the Speaker to read the record and give a ruling later.

"FULL-TIME MANAGER"

Dr. J. J. McCann (L. Renfrew South), chairman of the radio committee last year and probable chairman again, expressed belief the time has come for a "full-time, well-paid general manager" for the CBC who would rank with deputy ministers and have under him a manager as executive head of the corporation.

In that event, he said, it would be possible to have a smaller directorate with regional advisers for the different sections of the country.

The debate brought out criticism from E. G. Mansell (N.D., Macleod), that the CBC gives undue prominence to the C.C.F. party and Mr. Caldwell in its broadcasts. To this J. W. Noseworthy (C.C.F., York South), replied that not only the CBC but the daily newspapers and members of the house in their speeches devoted much space to the C.C.F.

Dr. McCann said most criticism of the CBC in the debate had been "destructive." He was not concerned about the publicity given to Mr. Caldwell in news broadcasts because the people thus would learn the truth about the C.C.F.

WORK AGAINST PARTY

"The more prominence that is given Mr. Caldwell and his party's policies, the more it will work to the detriment of that party," said Dr. McCann.

The CBC had a fine record of accomplishment during the last six or eight years, with services and coverage extended and improved reception.

The CBC bought news from The Canadian Press and British United Press, thus giving extensive news coverage. War operations were being reported by the CBC; publicity had been given to war activities, and a second network had been established.

The post of general manager had been vacant for some months (Rev. J. S. Thomson of Saskatchewan resigned last November) but there was no condition of "chaos" in the CBC administration. Dr. Augustin Frigon, assistant general manager, had stepped up to general manager temporarily. There was no man on the continent with greater technical knowledge of radio.

If one were to face the facts, however, it had to be recognized no radio set-up could please all at the same time. It was never intended, as now suggested, that the CBC should not have advertising revenue, said Dr. McCann. The Air Commission had expected $700,000 from advertising "at the beginning" and increases from year to year.

Were it not for the CBC feeding programs to privately-owned stations, the latter would not exist.

RELATIONS HARMONIOUS

The relations between the CBC and private stations were harmonious.

The government should seek to maintain the CBC as a strong national instrument, Dr. McCann said.

Rev. Dan McIvor (L-Fort William) said the CBC was "doing a great job" with the "Church of the Air" program on Sunday afternoons. It gave the Canadian people "something they need."

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"Something tells me we're not alone!"

ing broadcast locally, in various communities are appreciated. Capt. George Black (PC-Yukon) said CBC stations should be more powerful. In the Yukon it was seldom a Canadian broadcast could be heard.

Tom Reid (L-New Westminster) said speeches against the C.C.F. in the house meant that publicity was being given to that party. Liberal members of the house were not "greenhorns" in respect to the understanding of such matters.

Mr. Reid said a government monopoly organization could be as dangerous as a private one. He had heard the people in the United Kingdom were just waiting until the end of the war to throw over government control of radio and Canada should not be guided by the radio control system there.

Private-station owners had nothing but praise for the CBC but the latter operated under difficulties caused by the act which established it, said Mr. Reid. The act gave power for all stations to be taken within the CBC, which would lead to a monopolistic concern. War Services Minister LaFleche said he regretted reflections made on members of the CBC board of governors. It was poor recompense for citizens who gave their time to the onerous duties of the CBC to be criticized in a place where they could not reply.

BELONGS TO PEOPLE

"The CBC is a valuable piece of property which belongs to the people of Canada," said the general, whose department has jurisdiction over CBC affairs. "Its value ought to be safeguarded, and I know no better way to do that than for all members of this House to support it."

He said he did not agree that the CBC had lost the confidence of the people and was sorry to hear statements to that effect made in the House. Gen. LaFleche said he believed the Progressive Conservative publicity office had tried a piece of "too-clever publicity" in respect to the CBC refusal to broadcast without charge a speech by John Bracken, party leader, last fall.

Gen. LaFleche said he did not believe Mr. Bracken knew what was being done for him or in his name. He had been informed the publicity office was believed to have known the proposed broadcast could not be accepted under CBC regulations when the script of Mr. Bracken's speech was shown to the CBC.

The publicity office had made a "gesture," knowing the speech could not be accepted. The CBC regulations on such matters were widely known.

"Whatever the victory for the moment for such a sly, too-clever piece of publicity might have been, I do not believe the Canadian public can possibly be impressed with publicity work like that for the old political party I mentioned," said Gen. LaFleche.

Gen. LaFleche said he could deny flatly there had been "any interference with the CBC politically by the Canadian government." He was referring to Mr. Caldwell's statement there had been such interference in "suspending" the series of programs "of things to come."

Gen. LaFleche read his original statement on the matter in which he had said the decision on the program was that of the acting general manager, Dr. Augustin Frigon.

Gen. LaFleche said he had little respect for persons who made charges and protected themselves by using the word "alleged." Some people who remained at home, perhaps unwillingly, while others were fighting, chose to make trouble "in a family which should be united."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Caldwell raised a point of order and said the minister was making an innuendo against Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre).

"And the member for Rosemount-Biggar," said Gen. LaFleche.

Mr. Caldwell demanded a retraction and Gen. LaFleche said he was only helping Mr. Caldwell put his question.

"Let's be truthful," said Mr. Caldwell.

"I think both members are breaking the rules of the house," said Speaker Glen.

Important changes in the radio set-up were suggested by Mr. Mansell and John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre). Mr. Caldwell said he saw an attempt by "money-making interests" to undermine the government-owned broadcasting system.

Mr. Diefenbaker urged an independent board, similar to the board of transport commissioners to regulate radio and relations between private stations and the CBC.

Mr. Mansell said he would go further and revamp the whole structure of the corporation, leaving the CBC governors with control only over the affairs of their own corporation. For the general regulation of radio in Canada, he pro-

U.S. Stands Ready To Counter Any Argentina Move

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The United States was ready last night to meet the latest Argentine government shakeup with strong diplomatic and economic counter-measures if the change proves a threat to the security of the western hemisphere.

Acting Secretary of State Edward Stettinius told his press conference the situation is causing concern. "It is quite possible questions may be raised affecting the security of the hemisphere which might well call for exchange of information and views between the American republics," he added.

posed a three-man commission with one member nominated by the CBC, one by private stations, and one by the government.

When the CBC was created it was given wide control over private stations, Mr. Diefenbaker said. Since then it had become "strongly commercial in character." Limitation now should be placed on the amount of advertising the CBC should carry.

"I therefore suggest," he said, "that the committee should study the question with a view to preventing monopoly, with a view to protecting the rights of all parties, public and private, and in particular the rights and powers of private stations in relation to the public corporation."

Mr. Caldwell referred to a statement in the House Feb. 8 by Mr. Mansell that the CBC had given undue prominence to the C.C.F. in its news broadcasts. Mr. Caldwell said he had obtained the script of one report on the Commons debate in which Mr. Mansell had claimed Mr. Caldwell was mentioned twice while Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, was mentioned only once. He said the script did not support Mr. Mansell's argument and was a fair report.

SEE NO ADVANTAGE

Far from feeling it had an advantage, the C.C.F. believed it was discriminated against, Mr. Caldwell said.

Replying later, Mr. Mansell said Mr. Caldwell was "wrong again." On the night in question he had listened to two different broadcasts and Mr. Caldwell had obtained the script for only one.

He said his constituents had told him the C.C.F. and Mr. Caldwell in particular, regularly received prominent mention and he had heard the same report from other sources.

"The CBC can't dangle the name of Caldwell in front of the people every day without having some effect," he said. "I can only say that somewhere the hidden hand is trying to build up this man."

SHADING OF NEWS

Capt. Walter Tucker (L. Rosethorn), also said there was a "shading of news" by the CBC in favor of the C.C.F. The tendency, he said, was to picture Mr. Caldwell as a man who would lead Canada into the promised land.

"Something has to be done about it," he added.

Mr. Caldwell said the CBC was the creature of parliament and not of the government. Its independence of the government should be maintained.

"I say it is the duty of parliament to see that this corporation is not destroyed," he continued. "Money-making interests are anxious to undermine it and it appears to me, as to many others, that the government has failed in some instances to appoint the right kind of people to the board of governors."

Criticism of CBC programs came from several members.

A Letter from Home!

The Red Cross Appeal

Beginning Monday, the Canadian Red Cross will launch an appeal across Canada for ten million dollars.

Everyone knows that the war is now entering its most critical phase. Everyone knows that the Red Cross faces a task that will strain its every resource.

There is no need to recapitulate the splendid work done by this organization. There is no need to speak of its work among soldiers and civilians. It is enough to say that the Red Cross is as vital a part of our defence as any branch of the armed services. The work of providing blood serum, for instance, to wounded servicemen is just as important as putting those servicemen in the field.

The Red Cross is financed by the voluntary gifts of the Canadian people. It must have that ten million dollars or curtail its essential efforts.

In giving freely to the Red Cross in this campaign, Edmonton people do no more than fulfil a necessary duty in the war effort. To withhold full support would be to add to the hazards of young Canadians who risk their lives for our homes and our families.

The Business in Hand

Mr. Churchill indulges in no illusions, and does not paint rainbows to evoke applause. In the darkest hour, when it is literally true that "We stand alone," he promised nothing more to the British nations than "blood, toil, tears and sweat"—with victory at the end if they persevered. The strength of the man then was—and now is—his downright candor.

In his speech on Tuesday the Prime Minister sounded no advance note of imminent victory, though that would have started cheering. Of the ultimate outcome of the struggle in both theatres he had no doubts. But he refused to even endorse the opinion expressed in other high quarters that Germany will be defeated during the present year. That question he left for time to answer.

What was emphasized is that the air blows upon the enemy are to be redoubled, and that Britain, the United States and Russia have pledged themselves to throw their whole strength against the Nazi power during the coming spring and summer.

It will do no harm to their cause if people in the Allied countries take their cue from Mr. Churchill, pay no attention to predictions and prophets, and devote themselves wholeheartedly, each in his own place and job, to the business that we have in hand.

Machines Versus Men

The casualty report from the Marshall Islands is almost fantastic. The Japanese lost 8,122 men killed, the Americans 286, in the fighting for the Kwajalein atoll. It is not expected that the proportions will be greatly different when the totals are made up for the entire group. In terms of man-loses the victory was cheap, to the point of being phenomenal.

The reason, of course, was the terrific shelling and bombing to which the island bases were subjected before the marines and infantry were sent ashore. The ships and planes did the heavy fighting, and the ground troops moved in to occupy the places where the enemy had been. In war as in peace this is the machine age. Ships, planes, tanks and guns count now for more than men.

Against predictions that the bloodiest fighting has yet to occur in western and southern Europe can be placed the certainty that the Allied high command has no intention of matching men against forces better armed or as well armed as themselves. The Allies now have the tools or can get them, and there need be no doubt that General Eisenhower is massing these in numbers and variety the enemy cannot equal.

It would be extravagant to suppose that Hitler's Europe can be invaded at the cost of a man-lose relatively as low as that of the attackers in the Marshalls. But the demonstration there of what preponderant equipment can do warrants a hope that our invasion losses may be much lower than the military men have warned us they might be.

Turning on the Tears

The wife of Mohandas Gandhi had hardly breathed her last before the critics of Britain in the United States and elsewhere had begun to turn on the tears over her allegedly pitiable end. She died sharing the imprisonment of her husband, and already these dubious friends of "poor down-trodden India" have started to make a tragedy of it.

The text of the lament is that such a noble woman, a voluntary prisoner with her martyr husband, should have been allowed by the brutal British to die behind prison walls.

Before the legend grows to excessive length and poignancy, it would be well to examine the facts.

Gandhi is not a martyr. He is an unpleasant little traitor who would have turned his country over to the Japanese in the hope that in the consequent shuffle the Hindus would have come out on top of the Indian Moslems.

He is not incarcerated nor did his wife die in a prison. He is detained in a very pleasant and well-ordered mansion.

His wife was not his helpmeet and inspiration. She was an illiterate drudge, shoved out of his political life by her husband who treated her as a chattel.

During her illness, the British placed at her disposal the best medical advice and treated her to a degree of comfort and luxury she had never known before.

One would have to distort and decorate those facts fantastically before they could be arranged into a very satisfactory saga of British cruelty.

The surface indications are that the deposition of President Ramirez of Argentina was engineered by pro-Nazi agents. It followed on the measures he took to stop that fraternity using the country as an operational base and look-out in the western hemisphere. Too closely to be supposed to have been inspired by purely domestic issues.

When Italy surrendered to the Allies, more German troops were rushed in and the country was made a battleground. The Finnish authorities evidently saw the moral and applied it to their own case. There were 100,000 or more Nazis in Finland, and Hitler ordered them to "take all measures" to hold it. The Finns would likely enough have made peace long ago if they had thought that taking Finland out of the war would take the war out of Finland.

The Marianne group lies 700 miles north of the Carolines and that much nearer to Japan. The installations there are far less formidable than those at Truk, but their location gives the islands peculiar importance. Allied planes based in the Marianas would be almost as close to Tokyo as those in the Aleutians are to Paramushiro. Field Marshal Tojo is likely to tell Fleet Admiral Shimada he had better go and sink that impudent task force before it spearheads an Allied invasion of the too-close Marianas.

Altogether, it is estimated, Herr Goering has set aside about 300 planes to bomb London in nightly raids. If he could spare more he would do it. For this special task he has had to withdraw bombers from other fronts, if the lightened weight of enemy air attacks in Italy means anything. The raiders are doing damage, considerable, though out of comparison to that of raids in 1940-41. If the idea is that British morale—which stood the gruelling in that season of super-strafing—can be knocked out by the present weak imitation of "Coventry" days, the Herr has got his thinking apparatus working in reverse.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1894: 50 Years Ago

Winnipeg Free Press: Five hundred sober, able-bodied unemployed men marching in procession to the Toronto city hall to ask for work, and declaring that their families were starving, is not what the country was led to expect when Toronto so warmly espoused a policy that was to give every working man a job, every artisan high wages, and every farmer at least a dollar a bushel for his wheat. Toronto is one of the great centres in which the halo of the N.P. was to be visible in its brightest radiance; five hundred men declaring the starvation of their families and marching to the city hall for relief is a black frame in which to see the highly colored picture of the National Policy.

Rock Springs, Wyo.: Fear grows for the lives of eight persons as a wide search proceeds for an airliner lost in a raging mountain blizzard.

London: Police are preparing to handle an influx of 2,000 "hunger marchers" converging on the city from many points to hold a giant demonstration in Hyde Park.

Ottawa: Hon. H. H. Stevens said the government gave serious thought to a proposal to donate ten or twenty millions of bushels of wheat to starving Chinese, but abandoned the idea because grasping trade associations at Shanghai were likely to keep the grain.

Proper Monetary System Will Provide Employment

Post-War Perils Not to Be Avoided Through Trade

By G. G. McGeer, K.C. M.P.
(Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard)

The Governor of the Bank of Canada in his current Annual Report has presented to the government of the Dominion a grave picture of the post-war situation. He points out that the total federal debt of the Dominion has risen from $4,693,000,000 in 1939 to $11,300,000,000 at the end of 1943, an increase of $6,607,000,000, and that annual interest charges have risen from $189,000,000 to $304,000,000.

Mr. Towers warns that the public debt cannot be increased at the present rate for an indefinite period without placing an intolerable strain upon our economy. At this point, however, Mr. Towers leaves the realm of fact and moves into the wide open spaces of theoretical speculation by stating that the "war debt and the interest thereon" which will inevitably take place for a time after the war ends can be handled without serious embarrassment.

Winning Peace
Unfortunately neither Mr. Towers nor anyone else can tell when this war is going to end or what further increases in our national debt and interest charges will be incurred in winning the war and winning the peace. This war, as everyone is aware, is not going to end as former wars have ended. This time armies of occupation will take the place of the armistice and the treaty of peace.

The cost of the re-establishment and maintenance of order and the reconstruction of a world that has been bathed in flames of devastation will be added to the price of victory. The ultimate cost will consequently remain unknown until the job itself has been done. Little comfort is therefore to be found in Mr. Towers' assurance that this war's cost "can be handled without serious embarrassment." That kind of talk is just irresponsible chatter.

Economic Ruin

How does it come about, everyone may well ask Mr. Towers, that we can now look forward to carrying "without embarrassment" a debt load incurred in this war, already more than four times as great as the total war debt incurred in World War No. 1 which engulfed us in economic ruin.

The governor of the Bank of Canada, however, places a very definite qualification on his assurance that our war debts can be met without "serious embarrassment" by stating: "The key to this problem lies chiefly in the maintenance of a high level of employment and income." Few there are who have forgotten the dark days which continued from 1930 to 1939 when hundreds of thousands on the relief dole, hundreds of thousands of employable persons without anything to do, and hundreds of thousands more only partially employed, were being told that there was not sufficient money to pay the war debt and provide employment and to balance the budget. The all important matter then was that the war debts must be paid.

The coming post-war situation now presented by Mr. Towers is infinitely more difficult than it was after World War No. 1. Efficiency in machine tool and mass production has improved. There is no longer a human employment is reduced and many more wage earners are in need of gainful employment.

Full Employment

In 1939 there were only 4,000,000 gainfully employed in Canada. Today it is estimated we have 5,500,000 Canadians gainfully occupied, of which 2,000,000 are in the armed forces and war industries, leaving

Gas Poisoning

Editor, Bulletin: In the Edmonton Bulletin on May 31, 1943, was the heading "Farmers Succumb to Gas in Well." The report stated two men lost their lives by being "asphyxiated by unknown gas in the well." About three weeks ago, on February 3rd, it was reported in the press that a young man at Sanguo had lost his life when he was lowered into a well and was overcome by gas fumes.

Quite a number of human lives have been lost in Alberta in the past quarter of a century in a similar way to those mentioned above, either by entering a well or by entering the excavation when the well was being dug. This loss of life is so unnecessary if those digging wells or repairing old wells were aware of the serious danger of a gas accumulation in any hole, excavation or well, and if it were known that no such excavation should be entered without first ventilating or testing for gas accumulation. The remedy is quite simple since it should be only necessary to acquaint the people of the fatal results than can be caused by gas in wells.

I will outline briefly the cause of these tragedies. Small quantities of gas will be encountered in boring or digging into the soft beds of rock that occur as the surface formation over quite a large area, especially in central Alberta. These gas infected strata occur widely east of the foothills from the International Boundary northward beyond Peace River valley. This presence of gas in small quantities is such a well known geological condition that I have made it a practice on geological field work not to enter or allow any member of my party to enter any excavation more than ten feet in depth from the surface, without first investigating if there is any accumulation of gas.

Many deaths from gas fumes have occurred while wells were being dug. The unfortunate in most cases entered the well after the excavation was vacant for an hour or two at nighttime or during the night when sufficient deadly gas had accumulated to cause suffocation. The danger from gas accumulation in a well that is being dug, is greatest when there is no wind blowing because a breeze over a shallow excavation will tend to prevent an accumulation of gas in the depression. When a well is being dug, fresh air should be blown into the bottom of the excavation, or a blanket or canvas, suspended from a few feet above the top of the well down the centre of the well to near the bottom, should give sufficient ventilation to remove the danger from gas fumes.

In my opinion this loss of life is so unnecessary that it should be considered a serious offence for anyone to enter or cause a person to enter a well that is being dug or into an old well without first having taken even quite inexpensive precautions to ventilate the well or test for the presence of deadly gas. In carrying out geological survey work throughout Alberta, we have made it a point to inform the farmers and others of the dangers from gas accumulation in excavations and have explained that an accumulation of gas might occur within a few hours.

Wheat Too Low

Editor, Bulletin: When Mr. Douglas, who is a socialist, protests in the House of Commons against the Winnipeg Grain Exchange having suspended trading of wheat, as soon as the price reached $1.25 per bushel, it is news.

The fact is that Western people are not quite sure that this situation has been handled wisely. Mr. Gardiner says that some of our wheat is being sold at prices to wheat $1.50 per bushel, but in reality none is being sold at anything like $1.50 per bushel. Most of it is being sold to Britain, at a price which is not published, but at a price which is very much below that, and what is going to the United States is selling at about $1.30 per bushel.

On the whole, there is not much prospect, as things now stand, that there will be any dividend for the farmers, in excess of $1.25 per bushel original payment. Actually, there has always been a lot of confusion over this question of speculative trading in wheat. Mr. Broomhall, the great authority, has always denied that the open market gave the farmers any benefit for their wheat than they should have received. It does not make sense to Canadians, of course, that Western farmers should be expected to sell their wheat at sixty cents a bushel, or less, but it seems likely now that the cure for that condition was not to interfere with world trade in wheat, but for the government of Canada to give the farmers what assistance would be necessary to overcome the fact that they had to sell their wheat in the world market, and buy their goods in a protected market.

The consequence of that policy has been that, out of the 74.2% of the national income, which, for fourteen years, was divided between the industrial workers and the farmers, some 62% went to the industrial workers, and only 12% to the farmers.

The workers and the farmers combined totalled 75% of the population, and are about equal in number.

Surely in such circumstances, there is something wrong with the system, and it is certainly nothing that has anything to do with the system being capitalist.

As the war ends, we shall have an increasing discussion of post-war economic policy. There is already talk of universal free trade.

That is not likely to come about, because too many workers have an interest in keeping their factories operating. It might be wiser for the farmer to concentrate on demanding that he be adequately compensated for the burden which the tariff puts upon him.

Meanwhile, if Exchange trading is to be suspended, whenever the price of wheat tends to rise, this simply means that Canada, as a whole, will be selling wheat cheaper than it has to be sold from time to time.

The rest of the time, when the price of wheat is naturally low, Canada will be selling wheat at a low price, whatever we do, whether the Grain Exchange be left open or not.

We are getting a little real education in economics nowadays, and some theories which used to be quite widely held in this country are rapidly being put into the wastebasket. One of them is that it is always a bad thing for the farmer to have an open speculative market for his wheat.

Free Enterprise

Editor, Bulletin: On reading the article in your paper of the 21st Feb., where Gray Turgeon, Liberal member of the house of commons, says publicly that "free enterprise may not survive the war." This is quite evident to most of the citizens of Canada today, it is a feather in the hat of Mr. Turgeon to be one of the first Canadian politicians to admit this fact publicly.

Mr. Turgeon also states that the government today must make public its plans for a new state economy that will not permit this country to slip back into the days of poverty, toil, and scarcity that existed in this exceptionally wealthy country of ours just before the war. People generally don't want socialism, communism or fascism, and definitely not more capitalism, what shall we have? It is nice to dream but I am afraid it will not solve our problem. By proving that we are sincere as Mr. Turgeon says is necessary will not solve it either. What we need is a definite, solid, factual, scientific plan of operation based on function, a plan of balanced distribution with production, there is an organization today that has the plans for this social order of scientific operation, this organization is Technocracy, Inc. Technocracy has been carrying on a very detailed survey of the technological development of this country and the resources available.

After years of research in the social field Technocracy states, that with a system of balanced distribution with production, the application of science to the social order, the citizens of this country and the entire continent of North America could receive an income equal to $20,000 per year of the 1929 dollar. Social security from the cradle to the grave. Now is the time to investigate Technocracy.

Overseas Mail

Editor, Bulletin: Monday's Bulletin contained a remarkable and revealing story; one relating to the alleged manner in which overseas mail is handled at Halifax.

According to a recently returned veteran, the system in vogue at the Halifax warehouse is to place the first mail arrivals upon the floor, following which the newer deliveries are thrown on top. Thus, thanks to this astonishing scheme, the last mail to be received is shot overseas in record time, while the first packages continue to repose on the bottom of the pile. Only the military mind could evolve such a system and I'll warrant that some genius, above the rank of lance-corporal, was responsible for the brainwave.

The foregoing may account for the non-delivery of scores of parcels to my sons overseas and I know this condition is common to many other irate and disgusted families.

With five boys in the services we flatter ourselves that we know something about parcels. My wife and three daughters send out a constant stream of them, carefully packed and sewn in canvas. Dozens of the packages never arrive but now that the merchant vessel hazard is practically a thing of the past we can console ourselves with the thought that the missing parcels are reposing at the bottom of the Halifax dump.

One son, fighting with the Eighth Army in Italy, very rarely receives

Trade

Mr. Towers is no less vague when he comes to the difficult problem of the future of international trade. He recommends that the Dominion should aim at "expanding production in special lines where she has a competitive advantage, with a parcel although he is deluged with them, from this end. However, he did have the satisfaction of unearthing the wrappers from five of his parcels; the wrappers, nothing else.

We learn from the government ballyhoo department that the persistent mailing of letters and parcels to the fighting men is one of the greatest aids to morale extant. Why then do not some of the mouthy bureaucrats or the dugout heroes investigate the Halifax dump? Perhaps they are too busy at the moment, mixing "white wash."

The officer-in-charge of this latest anti-morale device should certainly be decorated. I offer the suggestion that the actual presentation should be made by a veteran arrived from the carelessly Italian front. Permit the soldier to bring his bayonet with him. Thus, with the medal attached to the bayonet point, it is a certainty that the veteran would know how and where to affix the decoration.

Russian Position

Editor, Bulletin: In a long letter in your issue of Feb. 12, the Rev. C. J. Foran replied to the charges of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia that the Vatican is "pro-Fascist." The apology of Rev. Foran is not convincing, in fact, bears out the Soviet criticism. He admits that Pope Pius XI had "a certain admiration for Mussolini" whose Fascist regime was preferable "to the only seeming alternative of atheistic communism." Of course, "communism" covers everything progressive as was the case in Spain, where Hitler, Mussolini and the traitor Franco strangled democratic Spain with the blessing of the Vatican.

The attacks on the Soviet Union by the Rev. Father Foran, that "the Soviets are as much responsible for this war as the Nazis" and "stabbed agonized Poland in the back" and have no loyalties," all this indicates an ignorance of history or a distortion of the facts. It is not worth while to take time and space to refute these misrepresentations.

The Izvestia charges are further borne by articles published in a recent issue of "The Western Catholic" which admits the propaganda "comes from Nazi sources" and yet prints the enemy file. It is to the effect that the heroic underground movements in occupied Europe are "communist terrorists" who are against "law and order," that is the "new order" of Hitler. It purports to come from "Catholic bishops." It comes from Nazi agents and the publication of Nazi propaganda here is an abuse of religious freedom.

It is timely to repeat the words of the great Cardinal Hinsley, Archbishop of Westminster who died on March 17, 1943: "A Catholic in America who would not give aid to Russia is not true to his faith. I get impatient with Catholics who still look askance at our Russian brothers. Instead, we should take an example from them. We should fight by their side against our common enemy." Thus spoke a great Catholic, many of whose faith are fighting Fascism to the death on every front today, in underground Europe most of all. Father Foran would do well to follow his example.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

NEXT Friday evening—March 3—the tenth season of Celebrity Concerts sponsored by the Women's Musical Club will come to an end when Jan Pearce, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association, New York, appears in recital at McDougall United Church. With an artist of his calibre to wind up the series, the final concert is certain to be indelibly impressive in the memory. In fact, the series as a whole will be remembered for a long time, as it was one of the best of the 10-year period. Mr. Pearce, one of the outstanding members of the Metropolitan roster, will be making his first appearance here, although he has been heard on many radio programs, as well as on records. He may rest assured of a whole-hearted welcome from those who are familiar with his art through the mediums mentioned. He will be greeted by a capacity audience, the size of which, apparently, will be governed only by the number that can be crowded into the auditorium.

JOHN OLIVER

The program is as follows: Tu Lo Sai, Torelli; Danza, Danza, Fanciulla, Durante; If With All Your Hearts from The Elijah, Mendelssohn; Sound an Alarm from Judas Macabreus, Handel; Hat Dich Die Liebe Heruhut, Marx; Ser, Sieger, Kaun; Am Grabe Anselmo, Schubert; Caille, Strauss; aria O paradise from the opera The African, Meyerbeer; Nebbie, Respighi; Son-pir, Duparc; L'Heure Delicieuse, Staub; Carnaval, Fourdrain; The Drooping Corn, Rachmaninoff; The Floods of Spring, Rachmaninoff; Do You Remember?, Levitski; Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind, Quilter; Alexander Alexey will be at the piano.

Russian music will be featured at the last meeting of the University Musical Club on Sunday, March 5. It has been arranged that the meeting would take place on Feb. 27, but a revision of the date placed it on March 5. Officials feel that an interesting and varied program has been arranged, with the co-operation of several well-known artists. In response to several requests Mary Drummond Hatlen, pianist, and Egon Grapentin, violinist will make their second appearance of the current season. Other artists who will appear, include Nelda Faulkner, pianist; Naomi Wershof, vocalist; Prof. L. H. Nichols, University of Alberta organist; and the newly-formed two-piano team of Lucille Cote and Francis M. Kitchen. A slate of officers for the 1944-1945 season will be submitted to the club for approval. It is con-

Here Next Week

Jan Pearce, tenor, of the Metropolitan Opera Association, who will appear in recital at McDougall auditorium next Friday at 8:30 p.m., under the banner of the Women's Musical Club.

Identically expected that there will be a large attendance.

The revised dates for the production by the Edmonton Civic Opera Society, of Rudolf Friml's musical play Katinka are April 18, 19 and 20, and the place is the Strand theatre. Originally it had been intended to produce the work on March 28, 29 and 30, but a postponement was necessary. The new dates will give the company ample time to round out rehearsals which have been in progress since the first of the year.

A strong cast has been assembled, and as there is much chorus singing, a large and competent collection of singing stars has been assembled for that department. Due to the presence here of many men in the armed services, and in war production activities, it has been found possible to obtain an unusually strong male section. Mrs. James B. Carmichael, general musical director stated that that division of the chorus is as capable as at any time in the history of the organization.

The cast, almost complete, is as follows: Katinka, Noreen Bristow; Olga, Marie Adkins; Tatiana, Therese LeCroc; Varenka, Brownie Burnett; Helen Hopper, Shirley Neher; Ivan Dimitri, Joseph Nadeau; Thaddeus Hopper, Laurier Picard; Boris Strogoff, Russian ambassador to Austria, John Markle; Knopf, Desmond Olsen; Arif Bey, Paul Hervieux; Petrov, Glen Davies; Abdul, A. Mantro; Detective, Godfrey Henderson; Halif, Weldon Taddy; Pierre, Dwight Robinson. The costumes and scenery are being specially prepared. Juneau Moore is directing the ballet, and Mrs. B. T. Olsen is in charge of the chorus.

Tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. Thelma Johannes, Saskatoon pianist, and Cathryn Zender, Edmonton soprano, will give a joint recital at the Public Library, Macdonald Drive. Programs, which will serve as tender for admission, are available at Helzeman and Company's store. The recital is the second in the series being sponsored by the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Music Teachers Association, in association with the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers Associations.

Under the direction of Mrs. Peter McSparran, the Lyric Musical Club is presenting an English pantomime entitled Dick Whittington, at the Westglen High School auditorium March 15 and 16. Although described as a pantomime, there will be plenty of both singing, and spoken dialogue. Leading roles will be taken by Nan Stott Bower and Anna Peterson with Jack Gerard as Whittington's cat. Others in the cast will include Jack Delaney, Harry Taylor, Joseph Le Brun, Kay O'Farrell, Lillian Blasius, Margaret Wild, Winnifred Mosher, Evelyn Grills, Gertrude Buchanan, Florence Patterson and Madge Stanley.

The annual students recital sponsored by the Women's Musical Club will be held at the Masonic Temple on Saturday next, March 4. Representatives of the younger generation will take part. Those in charge say that the program will be featured by a variety of pieces, including vocal solo and chorus numbers, and piano, cello and flute solos. An unusual feature will be the performance of two concertos, in one of which the soloist will be accompanied by a second piano, and in the other, specially written for children, the soloist will be accompanied by a group of five string instruments.

The student recitals of the Women's Musical Club always have been featured not only by merit, but by novelty as well, and on this occasion, the executive, if advance information is any guide, will appear to have maintained its reputation on these points.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

J. T. Toohar of Schenectady, N.Y., was elected secretary of the League's newest unit, the Capitol District Bridge Association, which takes in Schenectady, Albany and Troy. Today's hand was played in one of their duplicate games in which Toohar won top score.

The bidding was most unusual. Toohar's bid of spades with a three-card suit was the key. With his seemingly worthless hand, he wanted to get out of the bidding at the earliest possible moment, and he was sure that with his original pass, and his pass of the redouble on the second round, his partner could not be greatly mistaken as to his strength. From then the bidding was forcing, and at the end Toohar found himself playing a slam with a near-yarborough.

West made the best opening lead, but Toohar went up with dummy's ace of diamonds, cashed the ace of hearts and ruffed the heart, then laid down the ace and one spade. East won and returned a diamond, but it was all over when West was unable to trump, and the contract was fulfilled.

Mother, 3 Kiddies Burned to Death As Stove Explodes

SIMCOE, Ont., Feb. 26.—(CP)—Mrs. Ernest Lewis, 29, and three of her six children were burned fatally yesterday when a stove exploded, setting fire to their 10-room frame house two miles west of nearby Delhi.

Eight-month-old Bernice Lewis was burned to death as she lay on a blanket in front of the stove. The others—Mrs. Lewis and two sons, Richard, three, and Wray, two—died in hospital last night.

Police said Mrs. Lewis was attempting to strengthen a fire in a living room stove by pouring coal oil on burning wood.

Air Power

Military Mustard Plaster

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

The intensified aerial attacks on Berlin and other German centres are directly related to the desperate struggle that has been under way in the Anzio-Nettuno sector below Rome. Every effort is evidently being made by the Allied leadership to keep maximum Nazi air strength pinned down inside Germany to prevent reinforcement of air forces in the Italian theatre of action.

An attack on Germany from overhead is like a military mustard plaster, drawing the enemy's aviation blood to that particular portion of the country's anatomy. The American or daylight assaults are the more important in this respect because they involve the kind of real combat in the air that ties down and helps destroy Hitler's fighter airplanes.

The key to the aerial picture in Europe today is that we are now fighting on the same continent which contains the sources of German air power. A proper appreciation of this fact makes it clear that we are not engaged in a series of separate and isolated air battles, but in a crucial struggle against the entire Luftwaffe.

A contest for sky control over the Netherlands, over a German industrial target, over an Italian battle area are really parts of the same total picture. The mobility of air power is such that "control" in any one spot is meaningless, because the enemy can reinforce the position quickly and continually from the main reservoirs of air power.

MINOR HANDICAP

Fortunately, the overland lines of communication between Germany and Italy are not of the best; mountain ranges intervene, railway and other roads are limited. Air power, especially of the short-range variety, is only as good as the supply lines through which it is fed. This handicap under which German aviation in Italy operates, however, is minor compared with our own supply problems. At best we are dependent on long lines from Africa and the Mediterranean, and in the larger picture we are really dependent on thousands of miles of trans-oceanic lines, since America is the primary source of supplies.

In high official quarters it has been suggested, in connection with the critical engagement below Rome, that we have undisputed control of the sea and the air in the arena of action. If this were literally true, the whole outlook would be brighter than it has proved in reality. We could simply bomb and bombard the enemy into submission or retreat at leisure. To armen it seems more likely that sky control over Anzio-Nettuno is far from established, and that this uncertainty in the skies is reflected here, as it had been reflected in the days of the Rommel-Wavell seesaw duel in North Africa, in uncertainty on the surface.

SEA CONTROL

That we do have sea control is a fact—the enemy is entirely without surface naval forces, giving us that control by default. But it must be understood that monopoly of sea power, at the present time, is meaningless unless the skies overhead are in our own hands. Allied naval forces in the Mediterranean can no more approach hostile shores in Italy than they can approach the shores of France, Norway or northern Germany. When they do swing into action, it is always either under a strong umbrella of defensive air power or under the shield of bad weather which keeps the enemy airplanes out of the skies. When the British cruisers Mauritius and Dido gave gunfire support to our troops on February 12, for instance, it was under weather conditions that temporarily suspended major operations in the sky.

Our sea power is an important accessory force in the Italian battle. It serves to augment our artillery but should the Germans succeed in enforcing aerial control, Allied surface ships would have no alternative but to retreat.

The weather factor in that battle has been generally exaggerated. In the first place, rain, mud and other conditions which may handicap our troops impose the same handicaps on the opposing troops. Secondly, bad weather tends to release our sea power, enabling us to move supplies by water and to land reinforcements without excessive interference from the Luftwaffe. Germany has been sending wave after wave of airplanes to attack our forces and our shipping in Nettuno. Unfavorable visibility cancels out the effective use of our air power, but it also stalls such enemy attacks from the air.

In the writer's view, we have not yet attained control of the skies, or even superiority, in Europe—and that includes the Italian segment of the continent. Claims to the contrary, whatever their purpose, do not help things. They merely befuddle the public mind and usually end by giving air power a black eye in popular opinion. Unable to reconcile claims of air superiority with the facts of setbacks on the ground, people come to the false conclusion that the two types of struggle, above and below, are somehow unconnected. Therein lies the mischief of claims of an aerial edge of advantage that are overdrawn or entirely unjustified. We are better advised not to mislead the public on the law, repeatedly demonstrated in this war, that the side which holds the skies also dominates the surface area below.

DANGEROUS ILLUSION

German fighter-bombers are still striking almost at will. The geographical situation is such that Hitler can reinforce his air power on any European battle front more rapidly and more effectively than we can. To permit a temporary superiority in any segment of the skies to mislead us on the over-all picture is a dangerous illusion. Whatever the outcome below Rome, the main battle is being fought in the skies over all of Europe; its objective being to weaken and if possible eliminate the Luftwaffe's defensive aviation.

As long as there is indecision in the skies, there will continue to be indecision on the surface of the earth.

Farm Inspectors Rapped in House

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Joseph Burton (C.C.F., Humboldt), said in the commons last night that some farm inspectors "just make a heap of trouble for the people" and do no good.

Too many departmental inspectors seemed to believe in large expense accounts. One had made six or seven special trips to a district to examine prairie farm rehabilitation act dugouts instead of visiting them all on one occasion.

An inspector under the prairie farm assistance act had estimated a wheat field would go 12 bushels to an acre while it actually ran about 24, said Mr. Burton, adding: "He was as useless as the fifth wheel on a wagon. For too long we have let arm-chair farmers and swivel-chair politicians run our business."

Young Australian Veterans Of Bitter Land Campaigns Now Train for Sky Battles

By JACK DeLONG
(Passed by Censor)

There's nothing like learning a business from the ground up. And this grim business of war is no exception.

That's the view taken by a number of Royal Australian Air Force trainees now completing a course as navigators at No. 2 Air Observer School in Edmonton.

With two exceptions every member of the flight has seen service in the Australian Army. One, LAC. Lewis O'Leary, a Canadian, who formerly lived at Vancouver, B.C., served with the Digger ground forces in northern Australia and New Guinea.

Two others were with General Sir Archibald Wavell's gallant Middle East British forces, that struck the first real hard blows against the Axis in the present war.

FOUGHT IN GREECE

This pair, Donald L. Mountjoy, of Craigieburn, Victoria, and E. L. Crispin, Sydney, N.S.W., also served with the heroic British rearguard that attempted to halt Hitler's mechanized juggernaut that overwhelmed Greece in the spring of 1941 and with the equally heroic but badly over-matched army, that defended Crete.

Most of the others had to take it from the Japanese at Darwin and other points along the north and northeastern invasion coast of Australia during those dark days of the spring of 1941 when it seemed that only a miracle could save the British island continent from being overwhelmed by the great tidal wave of Japanese invasion that had already swept over the Philippines, Malaya, Java and the other islands of the southwest Pacific.

That miracle came in the shape of great sea-air victories in the Bismarck and Coral seas.

And now the young Diggers who had to grin and bear it when the Axis had 10 planes to one of the Allies are going to get their own back.

As Canadian "Aussie" O'Leary said:

"After a stretch in the army we have decided it is better to be giving it out from up above than to be on the receiving end down below."

REASON FOR TRANSFER

"In Greece and Crete where 10 Hurricanes seemed like a big number of Allied planes, while the Germans roamed the skies at will with great success at our expense, I decided the best way to get this war over as quickly as possible was to have supremacy in the skies. That's why

I transferred to the air force. I also have a burning desire to settle a lot of scores with the Nazis for those days in Greece and Crete."

Crispin feels the same way about the whole business, because he too was on the receiving end in Greece and Crete.

Then young Gill, who drove an ambulance in London, England, during the worst days and nights of the blitz in 1940 and 1941, has also a few things to get even for.

Several of the young Aussies were around Port Darwin and Townsville when the Japs sent over strong forces of bombers in the spring of 1941. They hope to pay the nips back for completely wrecking two of the most beautiful towns in Northern Australia.

Mountjoy joined the Australian Overseas Army in 1939, serving with an ammunition company.

He went in January, 1940, to the Middle East and after several months of training in Palestine went into action against the Italians in Libya in December of 1940.

FIRST OFFENSIVE BLOW

That was when General Wavell struck the first offensive blow of the war against the Axis, driving the Italians almost all the way across Libya.

Later he went to Greece and was on guard along the Yugoslavian border. Came the Nazi blitz through the Balkans and the hard, bitter rearguard actions by the gallant but outnumbered British, Australians and New Zealand forces.

"We had practically no air protection at all. The German dive-bombers had it all their own way," LAC. Mountjoy said.

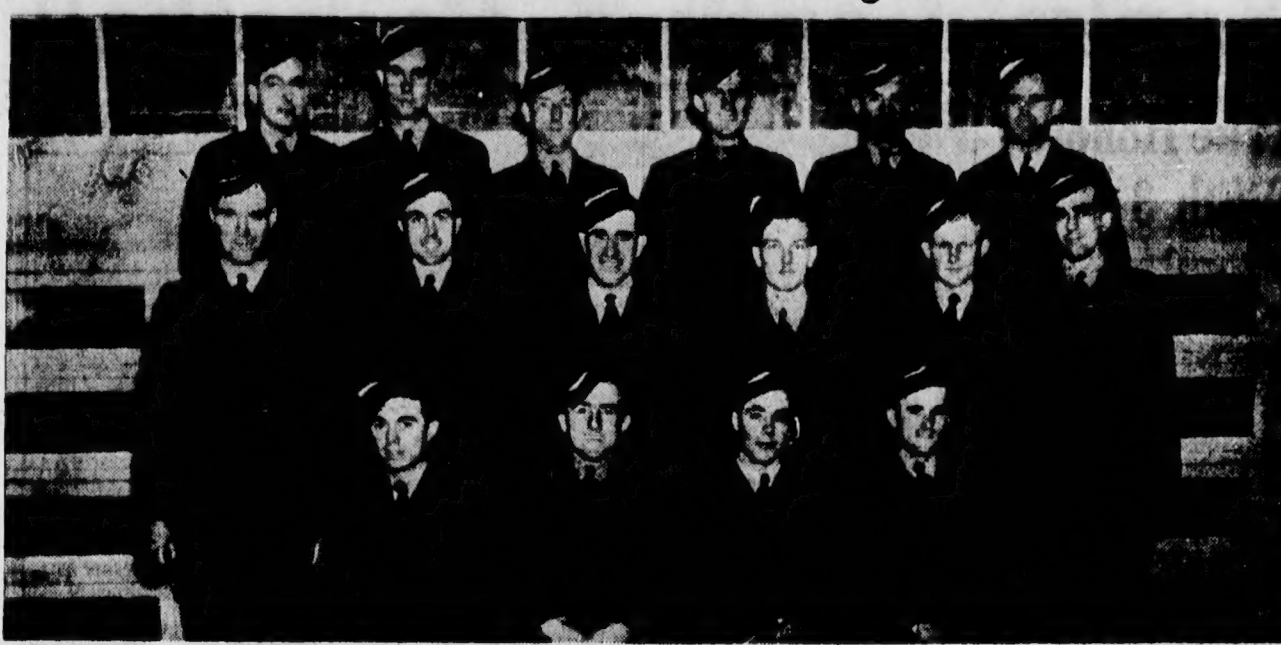

Then came the evacuation of Greece and the troopship on which Mountjoy sailed was the victim of a near miss from a high level bombing attack. The big liner's plates buckled and the vessel had to be abandoned. More than 3,000 troops aboard were saved and many of the survivors, including Mountjoy, were landed on Crete by British destroyers.

DESCRIBES CRETE BATTLE

After about 15 days the great Nazi air attack that culminated in the first successful airborne invasion in history, started. Mountjoy described the Crete battle:

"First the Nazis started dropping paratroopers. We settled a lot of them, but they kept right on coming. Of 26,000 troops on the island only 20,000 had rifles. We were without equipment of many kinds and also almost without food. We

To be bombers rather than the bombed was the motivating thought in the minds of the young men shown in the above picture, all but one of whom are members of The Royal Australian Air Force, training as navigators at No. 2 Air Observer School in Edmonton. A majority of the Aussies served in the Australian Army before transferring to the R.A.A.F. Two of them saw service in the bitter campaigns in the Middle East, in Greece and at Crete. Others were in northern Australia when the Japs were pounding the northern coast of the Commonwealth down under in the spring of 1942. One of them, LAC. Lewis O'Leary, is a Canadian, who served in the Australian ground forces in New Guinea. A musician, whose home is in Vancouver, he went to Australia in 1938. LAC. O'Leary is on the extreme right of the back row. LAC. N. C. Gill (fourth from left in middle row) is the lone non-member of the R.A.A.F. in the picture. He is an R.A.F. trainee from London, England, training in the same flight. All are leading aircraftmen. In the picture are, front row, left to right: D. G. Rees, Sydney, N.S.W.; R. J. Dickie, Dunkeld, Victoria; F. W. Wood, Burnie, Tasmania; D. J. Jackson, Melbourne, Victoria. Middle row, left to right: J. J. Fleming, Mathoura, N.S.W.; R. J. Loftus, Melbourne, Victoria; D. L. Mountjoy, Craigieburn, Victoria; N. C. Gill, London, England; W. J. Rogerson, Kaniva, Victoria; J. G. Kimberley, Horsham, Victoria. Back row, left to right: W. F. Duncan, Melbourne, Victoria; J. Wilcocke, Bondi, N.S.W.; W. Pridgen, Melbourne, Victoria; A. E. Anderson, Franklin, South Australia; E. L. Crispin, Sydney, N.S.W.; Lewis O'Leary, Vancouver, B.C.

had about six old Gladiator planes, as our air protection.

"At last we had to start a rearguard action from the north to the south side of the island. We had to fight a tough rearguard action across 15 miles of mountains. There were about 6,000 Australians, I think, with New Zealand troops and soldiers from Britain."

"From the south shore we were safely evacuated to North Africa. After a feed and a rest—the first we had in weeks of either—we were sent to Syria."

"We did guard duty there for several months. War in the Pacific started and we were sent back to Australia to meet the threat of Japanese invasion. I was stationed around Port Darwin for about 12 months and then joined the air force," LAC. Mountjoy concluded.

OTHERS IN CLASS

Others in the class at No. 2 A.O.S. who also saw service in the Australian army are:

D. J. Rees, Sydney; R. J. Dickie, Dunkeld, Victoria; F. W. Wood, Burnie, Tasmania; J. J. Fleming, Mathoura, N.S.W.; R. J. Loftus, Melbourne; W. J. Rogerson, Kaniva, Victoria; J. G. Kimberley, Horsham, Victoria; J. Wilcocke, Bondi, N.S.W.; A. E. Anderson, Franklin, N.S.W.; A. E. Anderson, Franklin.

Roosevelt's Son Gets Silver Star

U.S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Central Pacific, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Marine Lt.-Col. James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, yesterday was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action as an observer during the capture of Makin in the Gilbert Islands last November.

Roosevelt already holds the Navy Cross for his part in the daring marine raid attack at Makin Aug. 17, 1942, with Col. Evans F. Carlson.

The citation by Lt.-Gen. Robert C. Richardson, commanding army forces in the central Pacific, said Roosevelt "voluntarily sought out the scenes of heaviest fighting. Throughout the three-day period he continuously accompanied leading elements of the assault, exposing himself to constant danger. His calmness under fire and presence among the foremost elements of the attacking force was a source of inspiration to all ranks."

Dutch Coast Areas Flooded by Nazis

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 26.—(CP)—A report from a traveller just returned from the Netherlands that "large parts of the coastal areas of Holland have already been inundated" as an invasion precaution was published by the Svenska Dagbladet yesterday. The Swedish paper said people in the flooded areas had been evacuated to towns on higher ground.

Crash Kills Six

ALEXANDRIA, L., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Six members of a bomber crew from the Alexandria Army Air Field were killed, and four injured, when their plane crashed while coming in for a landing early yesterday, it was announced here.

Change Tactics

Germans Themselves Admit 'West Wall' Not Impregnable

This dispatch was written by Taylor Henry, former chief of the Vichy bureau of the Associated Press, on the eve of his departure from Biarritz, France, with American repatriates being exchanged for German nationals at Lisbon. He brought it with him by train to Portugal, where it was filed to the United States.—EDITOR.

By TAYLOR HENRY

BIARRITZ, France, Feb. 22.—(Delayed)—(AP)—The much-touted Atlantic wall designed to protect Europe from an Allied landing is not impregnable and a landing to establish the western front is possible, the Germans themselves admit.

After a year-long propaganda effort to convince the German people it would be suicide for British and United States forces to attempt landing in force in Europe, the Nazis suddenly changed their tactics early this year and admitted both openly and by implication their coastal defences are not as strong as had been thought and that work was being rushed to strengthen them.

Alfred Speer, head of the Todt Organization which has the responsibility for construction of the Atlantic wall, admitted that it was outdated in a statement made Jan. 28 to explain the necessity of repairing it on the basis of lessons the Germans learned from the Allied landings at Anzio and Nettuno in Italy.

BEING MODERNIZED

Consequently specialists are occupied daily modernizing the Atlantic wall.

The name "Atlantic wall" is misleading, because it is a line of fortifications more or less separated. Links of a sort are provided by tank defences and barbed wire intended to hamper beach landings.

German sources claimed there are more than 6,000 pieces of emplaced artillery between the North Sea canal and the Spanish frontier.

The Germans also claim they have thousands of mobile guns of armor-piercing calibre.

Only 1,700 guns of medium to heavy calibre guard the Norwegian coastline, however, the Germans admitted.

Up to the present the Germans have considered the Basque coast as one of the least important parts of the Atlantic wall and contented themselves with placing a few pieces of heavy and a great deal of light artillery on hilltops covering inlets to the Bay of Biscay and furnishing a cross-fire over the beaches.

Simultaneously Nimitz reported United States army heavy bombers attacked waves, radio facilities and the cantonment area on Kusaie in the eastern Carolines Feb. 23.

The same day heavy bombers sank one ship and damaged another in an attack on the Kusaie dock areas. Navy planes also exploded one ammunition dump with bombs.

Four Marshall atolls also were attacked.

Nineteen of the Japanese planes attacking the carrier force were destroyed—14 by ships' anti-aircraft fire and five by fighters.

CONTINUOUS ATTACK

The Japanese continuously attacked the force, consisting of battleships, cruisers and destroyers as well as carriers, throughout the night and morning with long range land-based torpedo planes and bombers.

The Japanese defenders lost 29 planes over Sapan and Tinian. Despite the long warning the Japanese had of the attack, 87 of their planes were wrecked on the ground.

Nimitz said several American planes were damaged in the Marshall raids although all returned to base.

Meals for two dozen soldiers are provided by a brick of compressed potatoes weighing one pound, when water is added.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 26.—Appointment of Frank H. WITHDRAWAL of the Calgary team from competition will leave the winner of the current hockey playoff series between Canadian Athletic Club and H.M.C.S. Nonsuch with junior championship honors for the province. Loss of players is understood to be the chief reason underlying the Calgary decision.

That accordingly gives the Edmonton final added importance in that the Alberta title is also at stake. Should the Canadians, last year's champions, take the series, they will proceed in the Memorial Cup playdowns, with the British Columbia representatives as next opponents—March 11 being the date set some time ago for the first game.

On the other hand, if Navy is the survivor, it presumably means Alberta will be without a contender in the playdowns for the first time—taking it for granted the existing regulation against Navy clubs engaging in inter-provincial competition continues to hold.

CLUBS DOING GREAT WORK

DROPPING OUT of the Calgary Juniors is just one more proof of the decidedly important place being filled by this city's four athletic clubs—Canadian, Edmonton, Maple Leaf and South Side—all operating smoothly under the Edmonton District Hockey Association.

While the maple leaf and South Side organizations are not represented directly in the junior league this season, players from both are on the rosters of other teams. And, by the way, at least eight Navy regulars are products of local clubs' hockey activities.

All four groups are running juvenile teams and Leafs and Canadians both have two sextets in the six-team district circuit. And then, of course, there are the bantams and pee-wees. And furthermore, a check of the teams engaged in the junior, juvenile and midget playoffs reveals the rather interesting fact that each of the four clubs has at least one finalist.

Leafs, E.A.C. Eliminated

South Side and Canadians Reach Midget Hockey Final

TURNING in an upset 4-1 victory on home ice Friday night, South Side eliminated the leading Maple Leafs from the City Midget Hockey League playoffs, while Canadians and E.A.C. battled to a 4-4 tie at 119 street rink in the other semifinal game.

As a result South Siders will now meet Canadians for the title in a best of three series starting next Tuesday. Maple Leafs took the first in the two-game total district series with South Side 3-2 last Tuesday, but lost on the round 6-4. Canadians edged out E.A.C. 3-2 in the opener and so take the series seven goals to six.

Smart net-minding by Colin Kilburn along with good defensive work and a determined attack gave South Siders their decision over the favored Leafs. George Ego and Jack Howey evenly divided the goals for the winners, with Harvey Silzer and Cal Anderson drawing assists. Grant Collingwood secured the singleton for Maple Leafs.

Ego gave South Side the lead in the first period with the help of Anderson and added another on a solo early in the middle session. Howey then netted two, both on passes from Silzer to give South Siders a 4-0 margin.

Grant Collingwood scored for Leafs in the third period.

LINEUPS
South Side—Kilburn, Howey, Goodman, Anderson, Crozier, Silzer, McDonald, Ego, Johansson, Kruper, Greenwood.
Maple Leafs—Jolicœur, Beauchamp, Pringle, Krook, Smith, Barry, Patterson, Jowett, Stratt, Forrest, Grant, Collingwood.

SUMMARY
First period: 1—South Side, Ego (Anderson).
Second period: 2—South Side, Ego; 3—South Side, Howey (Silzer); 4—South Side, Howey (Silzer).
Third period: 3—Maple Leafs, Collingwood.

RICHMAN NETS THREE FOR THE CANADIANS

Two third period goals, both by Clayton Richman, as against one netted by Harry Jeske for E.A.C. proved sufficient to deadlock the score at 4-4 last night and send the Canadians into the midget hockey final.

Yanks Capture Basketball League Title

Take Honors With 3 Wins In Playoffs

U.S. Army Air Corps Yanks emerged victorious in the final game of the "A" section round-robin at Westglen Friday night by knocking over U.S. Station Hospital 63-41, and captured the Edmonton Men's Basketball League title for the 1943-44 season. Engineers, last season's champs, defeated Quartermasters 55-33 in the opener to finish the series with two wins and a loss.

With Joe Long and John Vandenberg turning in great performances in both checking and scoring, the Yanks led most of the way, but it wasn't until late in the last quarter that they assured themselves of their unbeaten record in the series and the loop title.

Vandenberg dropped in 17 points for the winners and Long 15 to set the pace, but Warren Taulbee, who was selected the most valuable player to his team, came through with 18 counters for Hospital to top the scoring in that game.

Hospital had nothing to gain in the clash, but the effort turned in by them showed they were really out to upset the new champions. They tired in the last session, however, and lost out by 22 points.

LONG OPEN SCORING

Long opened the counting to give the Yanks a 2-0 lead, but the Hospital cagers, who started out like a streak of lightning went ahead 6-2 in the next few minutes as Morrison Keller drifted in a long shot and Taulbee tossed one from the side and then tapped in a rebound.

The small margin was cut short, however, as Paul Blawie and Long both came through with field baskets to make it 6-5 and then Blawie checked Joe Olexo at centre floor and raced down to put Yanks out in front 7-6. From then on the winners were never headed, but play continued fast and checking close.

Yanks added six and the losers five in the remainder of the canto to make the score board read 13-11 in the victors' favor at the end of the first quarter.

STAGE OFFENSIVE

The new titlists staged a real offensive in the second frame and rapped in 19 points, Blawie counting eight, Long five and John Vandenberg and Mike Miller three each, while holding Hospital to nine to increase their lead to a comfortable 32-20 margin at the half way mark.

Hospital held an edge in play in the third, but managed to out-score their rivals by only two points, 11-9. They stormed in on the basket with an almost continuous attack, but failed to get results.

The medical men continued their fast pace early in the fourth, but were unable to keep it up and fell behind as the Yanks, with Vandenberg and Wayne Adams hitting top stride, ran in 22 points to Hospital's 10 to win out.

ENGINEERS RUNNERS UP IN CAGE ROUND-ROBIN

U.S. Engineers became runners up to Yanks in the title series last night then they handed Quartermasters a 55-33 setback in the curtain raiser. It was the second defeat for the Quartermasters who finished in third place in the round-robin.

Early Ayers had an on night as he scored 21 points to lead the Engineers while Artie Albert came through with a few nice long shots in addition to some others to pace the Quartermasters with 14 counters.

Joe Baksi Cops Decision

Tami Mauriello Is Beaten In 10-Round Heavy Clash

By FRITZ HOWELL

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Joe Baksi, heavyweight coal miner from Kulpmoet, Pa., a 12-to-5 underdog, batted out a 10-round decision Friday night over Tami Mauriello of the Bronx, the No. 2 challenger for Joe Louis' crown, in Madison Square Garden. Baksi weighed 210½ and Mauriello 196¼.

The rugged Baksi floored Mauriello with a left hook for a nine-count in the first heat, and then battered his favored foe all over the ring for the next five rounds.

Mauriello, despite the bat came back strongly to win the ninth and 10th sessions easily, and even had the big ex-miner hanging on at times, but the early margin was too much for him to overcome.

At the finish Mauriello's left eye was almost closed, and his nose and mouth were bloody.

Judges Joe Agnello and Frank Forbes gave Baksi six rounds and Mauriello four, while Referee Billy Cavanaugh gave Baksi six, Mauriello three and called one even.

more effective game and were well worth their win although the 22-point margin in the totals does not indicate the difference of the two teams.

From the time Ayers dropped in two field goals early in the initial session, the Engineers were always ahead. They ran in eight more points in the first canto while they held the losers to four to take a 12-4 lead in that frame.

The winners increased their margin to 10 in the second quarter when they out-scored the Quartermasters 13-11 to make the half time count 25-15 and then clicked for 14 more in the third while they held their opponents to seven to earn a 39-22 lead going into the last stanza.

The Engineers continued on the long end of the scoring in the last session and marked up 16 more counters while Quartermasters were only able to come through with 11.

U.S. Air Corps Takes Lead In Service Cage Loop Series

U.S. Army Air Corps won the opening game of the best of three Inter-Service Basketball League final series Friday night when they handed U.S. 402nd Service Squadron a 48-29 defeat in the A.O.S. drill hall.

Ed Meyer led the winners with 10 points as all but one member of the club entered the scoring, but Larry Chatfield of 402nd was high counter with 11.

The Airmen out-scored the Service Squadron club 16-8 in the first quarter and then rapped in 13 to the losers' 12 in a close second session to earn a 29-20 lead at half time.

The winners hit a fast pace in the third and almost clinched the game when they chalked up 11 points while holding Service Squadron to a pair of counters. They then went on to make sure of their victory by dropping in eight more in the last while the losers were only able to get to the basket for seven.

War effort and export quotas have taken such a great percentage of Canada's normal lumber production, that, in order to make materials available for essential civilian work, it was necessary to produce more lumber.

So, to supplement the production of the established operators, and to provide lumber for farmers to store grain and raise livestock, Beaver Lumber financed new cutting and milling operations, and succeeded, to some extent, in providing lumber for the needs of the local community—a difficult task of which we are justly proud.

Our customers, appreciating the situation, have accepted the lumber we have made available—not always what they would want—and have "made it do," knowing it was the best to be had.

To enable us to serve you better, you are invited to bring your building problems to your nearest Beaver yard as early as possible. You are assured of receiving the best advice, assistance and materials available.

Lesueur and Moran Two Famous Goalies Name Hockey Greats

Toronto, Feb. 26.—(CP)—By coincidence, two of the greatest hockey goalies of all time were interviewed during the past week. They are Percy Lesueur and Paddy Moran, rivals more than 30 years ago.

Lesueur played with Ottawa's Stanley Cup champions in 1909 and 1911. Moran was in goal for Quebec Bulldogs when they won the cup in 1912 and 1913.

Moran, 68, and a customs house employee in Quebec for 35 years, told Lloyd (Montreal Star) McGowan he was a hockey professional from 1910 to 1916 and his total earnings approximated $4,000. The average for a season was only a little more than $500.

Ross Says Hockey Is Doing Its Part

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Art Ross, Boston Bruins manager, said in an address here Friday to a service club (Kiwanis) that "Canada's national game is winning the war, and pray God soon."

Ross criticized sports organizations which thought of box office receipts in wartime. Of the National Hockey League he said: "A lot of things went on this year which won't happen again."

His own team had given "thousands" for war purposes. The Boston manager added he is "hurt" when hockey players are put in categories that show them as quitters. "I say I don't believe there is a man playing hockey today who wouldn't lay down his life for his country," he said.

Canucks Marching to Battle Have Little "Spit or Polish"

If you have wondered just what the boys look like, going into battle and at rest behind the lines, here is the picture—written by a war correspondent now back in London after six months with Canadian troops in Italy.—EDITOR.

By WILLIAM STEWART

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—There's little spit and polish about troops at the front. A company of Canadian infantrymen walking into battle in single file looks like a group of Commandos whose exploits and pictures were in the papers a couple of years ago.

Whale Makes Trip Inland

REHOBOTH BEACH, Del., Feb. 26.—(AP)—There was a whale abroad in these parts, and not in the ocean, either.

He—everyone presumed it was a "he" because he was such a showoff—came gliding up the Lewes-Rehoboth canal.

Crowds gathered on the banks. At a point about two miles from the ocean, he slowed and spouted water. The crowd cheered.

Then he steamed on, hundreds trotting along the shores, shouting.

It was a 15-mile swim back to deep water but nobody doubted he would make it and there were no reports later to indicate he hadn't.

Bridge tender John Warrington said he came in on Thursday's exceptionally high tide.

CANADIAN PRESENTATION LONDON.—(CP)—A silver statuette, showing a soldier in battle-dress holding a rifle with a fixed bayonet, has been presented to the East India Sports Club, London, by Canadian Army officers who have been made honorary members of the club.

When they're at rest, however, with any kind of facilities, the Canadians are able to turn out almost as smartly as those who appear in London on leave.

The troops wear battledress which is kept neat during rest periods, but gets rumpled, muddy and dirty in battle. Its khaki color blends well with the greens and browns of the Italian landscape.

WEAR WOOL SHIRTS They wear wool shirts, sand-colored Eighth army sweaters, the familiar anklets and Canadian-made boots. Much of their battledress is of English manufacture, not as popular as the Canadian-made uniform which they regard as having better material.

The troops have greatcoats but until January, at least, did not wear them going into battle despite the cold. Instead, they carried oil-skin gas-capes, light, easy to carry tightly-rolled, and waterproof and wind-resistant when buttoned on.

The gas-cape has served them as ground-sheet, overcoat and blanket on many occasions and is looked upon as an indispensable piece of equipment.

In the forward areas, the troops wear steel helmets.

Out of range of fire, or when it is quiet, the troops wear the wedge cap so battered by use it has taken on the general shape of a skull cap. Many wear wool skull caps or wool cap comforters that are much larger.

When fighting is heavy they sometimes have no opportunity to change clothes, or even socks, for days. The army daily shave rule is relaxed and beards appear.

Archeologist Dies

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—James Reid Moir, 64, archeologist, died yesterday. For many years he carried out archeological diggings in East Anglia and other parts of England. His many published works included "The Antiquity of Man in East Anglia," in 1927.

Map Future Status Of Defeated Reich

By RANDAL NEALE

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP)—A committee of experts of Allied governments in London is working on plans for military and economic control of Germany which might be included in the armistice terms. Necessary statistical work has been completed but various suggestions still have to be tabulated in an agreed draft to be submitted to United Nations governments for approval.

Aim of these experts would be to make Germany actually and potentially powerless for future warlike purposes while allowing her domestic economy up to but not exceeding the limit of her normal peaceful needs and not below the limit where Europe's general economy would suffer.

Apart from total demobilization of what will remain of the German army and destruction of arms and munitions, plans under consideration would provide for wholesale demobilization of military establishments, including the Siegfried line. Destruction of the Kiel canal as of preponderantly military value and prohibition of aircraft manufacture are among suggestions being reviewed.

Bond Purchasers Allowed to Travel On British Carrier

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The H.M.S. Reaper, British auxiliary aircraft carrier, will leave here today for Vancouver carrying, on a goodwill mission to the Canadian port, a group of Pierce County citizens who won the opportunity to go by purchasing United States Fourth War Loan bonds.

The ship is one of a series of flat tops built here by the Seattle-Tacoma Shipbuilding Corporation for the British navy and is captained by Cmdr. W. H. B. Wallace, R.N., and manned by a British crew.

Need for Initiative Must Create International Organization Capable of Preventing Wars in Future

This is the twelfth of a series of articles by Sumner Welles, former United States Under Secretary of State, which appear exclusively each week in The Edmonton Bulletin.—EDITOR.

By SUMNER WELLES

Former United States Under Secretary of State

These winter and spring months of 1944 will be critical months in determining whether the United Nations can create an international organization which will be capable of preventing war in the years to come.

A lasting international organization is not going to come to life just because we talk about it, nor even because some members of the United Nations sign agreements stating that they favor some kind of future organization of international society.

It will be far easier to obtain before, rather than after, the conclusion of the war. It will exist only as a result of a determined effort on the part of each member of the United Nations to finish the grueling task of obtaining the agreement on the part of all of them as to the form of international organization which will accomplish the ends which we seek.

It will be born only if peoples throughout the world become convinced that such an agreement represents the only means by which their own liberty and security are going to be assured.

These two prerequisites unfortunately have not yet been obtained.

WAR SUPERBLY HANDLED

Our own military effort has been superbly handled by our Commander in Chief and by the military, naval and air leaders to whom he has entrusted authority. It has shown daring, courage, perfection in strategy and initiative. It is matched by the magnificent showing we have made in industrial production for military use. Together they will help to win the war.

The United States is now called upon to demonstrate that it possesses just as much energy, equivalent perfection of strategy and equal initiative in the field of foreign policy. If it is going to succeed in laying the foundations for the only kind of peace by which the American people will be rendered secure after the conclusion of the war.

When the President and Mr. Churchill proclaimed the Atlantic Charter in August, 1941, they held out to peoples throughout the earth an ideal. It was an ideal which heartened hundreds of thousands of men and women in the occupied countries, and in the nations still fighting for freedom. It gave them hope and encouragement. It made them all the more willing to resist, and to struggle on.

BOUND BY CHARTER

The Atlantic Charter represented the first great political initiative of the democracies in the present war.

By subscribing to the United Nations declaration all of the governments joined together in the battle against the Axis have pledged themselves to the principles set forth in the charter.

Last autumn, at Moscow, at Cairo and at Teheran, the major partners in the alliance renewed these pledges, gave assurance that they intended to co-operate after the war, and because of the insistent determination of the President, proclaimed the broad outlines of our peace aims in the Far East.

But what are the masses of the people enabled so far to see of any positive implementation of the principles of the Atlantic Charter? They are beginning to fear that there is going on within the Western Powers a struggle for control between those who comprehend that the world revolution is not a phrase; that it is actually upon the march, and that the overwhelming force which this represents can and must be turned into constructive channels for human advancement, and those who are seeking blindly but passionately to have our victory mean nothing more than the patching together of the outworn structure of the past which they cannot yet see the war has inexorably and forever destroyed.

ASSAILS BADOGGIO RULE

For reasons of military expediency it may momentarily have seemed desirable to turn over the administration of southern Italy and Sicily to Marshal Badoglio's government, but surely neither the Italian people nor the peoples of the occupied countries will derive much inspiration or encouragement as to the objectives for which we fight when they see that before the Italian people have had any chance to make their wishes known, authority over them, even though it be conditional, is restored into the hands of those who must be held so largely responsible for the conditions which forced the Italian nation into the war on the side of Hitler.

However legitimately, we may object to some of the methods employed, the policy of Moscow in the last few months has been positive, and it has been notable for its assertion of leadership. The Western democracies and the Soviet Union not only can, but they must, co-operate if we are later to have peace and stability in the world.

TIME OF THE ESSENCE

But there is no reason why the Western democracies should renounce their own equal ability to initiate and to lead. Democracy is neither decadent nor static. It will only appear so, and it will only

The Very Old

God bless them in their little fussy

And puffy trips about the quiet yard;

They way their old eyes light with little praise.

They work around the house and try so hard

To please. They wear their thin old wedding rings

On trembling hands that drop so many things.

They bring out faded photos, dusting them.

Against their aprons with old eager hands.

Explaining who they are. "This little boy

(Who looks so full of mischief as he stands)

Was once your dad." She tells, with eyes grown dim,

Some little loving anecdote of him.

They live so much within the memories past,

Their days are numbered backward as they go

Down scented paths and live each day again

Where only roses and white lilies blow.

Work, struggle, passion—all have passed away,

Only the beauty lives with them today.

Deal with them gently. Life is hard

And old feet stumble when the going's tough;

A little word of praise, a kindly pat,

(For bread and tolerance is not enough).

A home is blest that shelters in its fold,

The unassuming presence of the old.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION:
What is your opinion of the liquor board's ruling that those making purchases of liquor in February would not be permitted to purchase in March?

THE ANSWERS:
CHARLES TRUEMAN, Salesman: The whole system of beer and liquor rationing seems to be mismanaged, and has drawn fire from many responsible organizations. It cannot be blamed entirely on the Alberta Liquor Control Board and the Dominion government should be made to shoulder its share of responsibility. The order restricting liquor and beer sales came from that source.

ONE WHO PURCHASED IN FEBRUARY: I think that the ruling is the 'werds'. Surely it should not be beyond the comprehension and organizing ability of the board's officials to adopt a rationing system that would give an equal supply and chance to buy to all permit holders.

LEN LONDON, salesman: It is a hardship on many to obtain their beer under the present system of sale at the liquor stores. Some system should be devised so that workers would have an equal chance to purchase with those whose opportunities permit early shopping and thus are able to obtain their supply before stocks are exhausted.

Estonia normally produces almost a ton of potatoes annually for each inhabitant.

Medical Course Here May 8 to 12

The Canadian Medical Association, Alberta division, together with the medical staff of the University of Alberta, has arranged for a medical refresher course to be held at the university, from May 8 to 12. Outstanding men from the east, together with local professors, will give lectures. Special emphasis will be placed on work which will appeal to members of the armed forces at present stationed in Alberta, including those from the United States who are stationed in Edmonton and further north.

In 1943 attendance for the course was 224 and it is believed this year that number will be exceeded.

Budget Debate To Start Monday

James Walker, independent party leader, is expected to lead off Monday in the budget debate in the Legislature. The budget, for the 1944-45 fiscal year, was introduced into the Legislature last Thursday by Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer, and will be discussed, in all probability for a week. When the budget debate is completed the way will be clear for discussion of estimates in committee of the whole house.

Canadian Air Ace Presents Wings to Class

An outstanding air hero of the First Great War, Sqn.-Ldr. F. R. G. McCall, D.S.O. and Bar, D.F.C., presented wings to a class of graduating students at No. 2 A.O.S. Friday.

All parts of the Empire were represented by the graduates. Sqn.-Ldr. McCall, who bagged 37 Hun planes in the last war, told the air graduates about the day he received his own wings. Despite the fact it was pouring rain he had to strut round without a raincoat, so that all might see the new glory of the graduate, he recalled.

Sqn.-Ldr. McCall is now second in command of No. 7 I.T.S. at Saskatoon.

Another feature of the parade was presentation of a citation to Flt.-Lt. W. P. Irving, Protestant padre at No. 2 A.O.S.

The citation was for daring action of Irving when serving as an observer during an attack on an enemy submarine.

Flt.-Lt. Irving is believed to be the only officer in the air force to remuster as a chaplain after a tour of operations overseas.

Flt.-Lt. D. I. Crossley, chief instructor at No. 2 A.O.S., was in charge of the wing parade.

Red Cross Parcels for Canadians in Enemy Hands...
Parcels Paid For By Your Cash Donations ... Forwarded By Devoted Canadian Women Volunteers!

- Next week, Edmonton men and women who have accepted the responsibility of raising Edmonton's quota in Canada's drive for Ten Million Dollars, will be calling on you for a generous contribution to this fund for the relief of human suffering.
- Yes, this work must go on! Soon Canadians will be crossing the channel to smash Hitler's Fortress, and the Red Cross will have greatly increased duties to perform! In Red Cross packing centres right across Canada thousands of devoted women volunteers work tirelessly in shifts of as many as 100 and pack about 100,000 Red Cross food parcels each week. So if Ration Coupons restrict your purchases bear this Red Cross work in mind.
- For many thousands of war prisoners these parcels spell the difference between gnawing misery and a measure of bodily comfort. As the fighting spreads the need grows. Were this the only activity of the Red Cross, it would be enough to warrant your openhanded support. But this, and all the other Red Cross work, must go on. Be considerate of your canvasser's responsibility... and give generously!

the need GROWS

This is the year of supreme effort. The year the Red Cross will be needed as never before. And as our all-out victory drive gains momentum, as casualty lists mount, as the horrors of war spread wider and sink deeper, this need will grow.

This Important Announcement Made Possible by the Above Public Spirited Business Firms

Extra Sanatorium Space Soon Ready

Extensions to the Keith Sanatorium, near Calgary, which are to make room for a further 60 patients, will be completed within 30 days, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, provincial minister of health, announced in the Legislature Friday.

The minister also said that there are 200 persons in Alberta who have tuberculosis and who are waiting for accommodation in hospitals to become available to them.

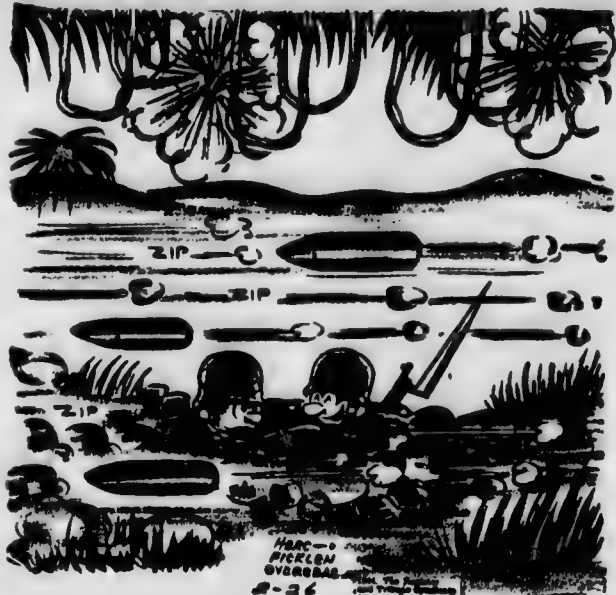

The discussion on tuberculosis arose in the House when, during sessions of the committee of the whole, consideration was being given to a bill to amend the Tuberculosis Act. The amendment is to permit treatment in sanatoria, where special facilities are available, of non-tubercular lung diseases.

The amendment authorizes the minister of health to make agreements with local authorities to provide for care of such cases.

It was explained in answer to a question by E. J. Martin, Independent M.L.A. for Peace River, that a charge of $1.50 a day is to be levied by the government against the municipality in which the patient is resident.

The amendment passed its committee scrutiny, and was reported for third reading.

Gets "Tax Break"

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A young man explained to internal revenue collector William Korth that a disease during the past year cost him all his hair. Korth said that in this case it would be all right to list under "medical expenses" the price of a new toupee.

New Bond Issue Is Selling Well

Edmonton's $1,770,000 debenture issue is selling like "hot cakes" and less than $300,000 of the issue now remains to be sold, according to advices received Friday morning by Mayor John W. Fry from the syndicate that successfully bid on the loan.

The bonds were placed on the market after a special meeting of the city council on Tuesday last when bids were considered and the contract for the issue awarded.

More than $1,000,000 of the bonds were taken up on the opening date of the offering, and steady sales were reported on Thursday.

"Secret Devices" Increase Accuracy Of Ack-Ack Guns

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The British information services here said yesterday that British anti-aircraft batteries, aided by "new secret devices" now are shooting down eight German planes with the number of shells needed to shoot one down in 1940.

In the recent week-long barrage against Nazi raiders, the services said, British gunners used a Bofors gun weighing only two tons which fires as many as 120 two-pound shells a minute.

Committee Asks Two New Homes For Delinquents

Construction of two industrial homes in Alberta when funds are available, one for delinquent boys and the other for delinquent girls, is recommended in the report of the province's child welfare committee, which investigated juvenile delinquency in Alberta last year.

Other recommendations call for substantial increases in the scale of mothers' allowances, and for reorganization of the government child welfare branch and municipal children's aid departments.

The report was tabled in the Legislature by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health. H. J. Wilson, K.C., deputy attorney-general was committee chairman.

Members of the committee were Mrs. H. W. Riley, Calgary; Miss Margaret A. Carson, Medicine Hat; Fred Gardener, Calgary; and Frank Drayton, of the Edmonton relief department. A. H. Miller, provincial relief department, was secretary.

When the committee was established, it was asked to report on the best methods of dealing with, and taking care of neglected and delinquent children, and also to report on the administration of the Juvenile Court and the Child Welfare Acts.

A RECOMMENDATION

In respect to application of the Juvenile Delinquents Act, the committee has suggested that the age of boys and girls affected by the Act should be retained at 18 years. Appointment of a provincial supervisor to develop and promote recreational programs in rural and urban schools is recommended. This official is suggested to be an appointee of the department of education.

"The scale of mothers' allowances should be substantially increased to enable widowed mothers to maintain their children in the home without the necessity of seeking outside employment," the report states.

It is also recommended that a psychiatric division of the child welfare branch be set up, under the supervision and direction of a competent psychiatrist, and assisted by a staff of trained psychological workers. The placing of high grade mental defectives in carefully selected foster homes, under the direction of the child welfare psychiatrist, also was recommended.

Combination clinics and detention homes in both Edmonton and Calgary are suggested to be established for boys and girls. These institutions would be equipped to give adequate physical and mental examinations to children who are apprehended as delinquents, or neglected children, and would be under the supervision of the psychiatrist attached to the child welfare branch, and his assistants.

For cities of more than 50,000 population, the report recommends a full-time probation service, maintained seven days a week, and that in all cities where a children's aid department is operated, that night patrols be made by probation officers.

It is suggested that the rural parts of Alberta be divided into separate districts, and that inspection work in connection with mothers' allowances, old-age pensions and child welfare be co-ordinated, and that an inspector, a probation officer of child welfare worker be placed in charge of the work in each district.

A further suggestion refers to the three cities of Edmonton, Calgary, and Lethbridge, and recommends that they be divided into zones. To accomplish this, a survey of each city is called for by their children's aid departments. These zones would be placed under direction of a properly-trained child welfare worker, who would organize, co-ordinate and direct all child welfare agencies in the community, to bring about the treatment, education and cure of neglected and delinquent children of the communities.

Peaplates are suggested for parents who are responsible for the neglect of their children, or who neglect, abandon, or in any way cause their children to be ill-treated, abandoned, or neglected.

It is also recommended that the minister in charge of the Child Welfare Act appoint a committee which would approve of the appointment of probation officers, inspectors and child welfare workers, by the provincial child welfare branch and by the municipalities.

WOULD APPOINT WOMAN

"One member of the committee appointed by the child welfare branch to approve of foster homes should be a woman, and these homes should be systematically inspected, supervised, and visited by inspectors at least twice a year," the report states. It recommends amendment of the Child Welfare Act, to provide for setting up of a bureau of public and child welfare under the direction and administration of the minister of health, and to provide for selection and approval by the committee of foster homes.

It is suggested in the report that the industrial homes to be built when funds are available, should be of the cottage type, where boys can be divided into age groups under proper supervision of house leaders, under the open-door honor system, and that proper facilities be provided for industrial training by qualified instructors in farming, carpentering, and other trades.

A further recommendation is that the province should take steps to petition the Dominion government to implement the recommendation of the royal commission on penal reform, to establish a Borstal institution for the three prairie provinces.

Premier Estimates Surplus of $168,373 For Saskatchewan

REGINA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Premier W. J. Patterson, provincial treasurer, tabled estimates for the 1944-45 fiscal year in the Saskatchewan legislature which estimates for a surplus of $168,373 compared with an anticipated surplus of $82,396 for the current fiscal year ending April 30.

The budget speech is expected to be delivered Tuesday.

Expenditures for the next fiscal year totalled $34,167,130 against $30,828,997 for the current fiscal year.

It is the second largest budget in Saskatchewan's history. The largest was for 1939-40 with expenditures totalling $34,900,000.

New Legislation Designed To Encourage and Assist Child Welfare in Province

Making provision for the appointment of a child welfare commission for Alberta, a bill, "An Act Respecting the Welfare of Children," was introduced into the Legislature Friday afternoon by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health.

The bill states that the commission shall be made up of from three to five members, one of whom is to be the provincial superintendent of child welfare, who is to be commission chairman. The new body is to encourage and assist in the formation of child welfare organizations in the province, and is to co-operate with those in operation.

Under provisions of the new bill, the child welfare commission is to have supervision of all children who are wards of the government, and supervision of immigrant children, as defined in the act. Also, it will arrange for visitation and inspection of homes, places, shelters and institutions where wards of the government are cared for or employed.

INVESTIGATION GROUP

Provision is also made for the appointment by the minister of a committee of three or more persons, to be known as a home investigation committee, which is to examine and dispose of all applications received from prospective foster parents, and maintain an accurate record of all homes approved.

This group will also arrange for supervision and inspection of foster homes in which children have been placed for adoption or otherwise.

Other committees may be appointed by the minister in charge of administration of the act, to investigate into problems connected with child welfare, and to make recommendations for suggested changes.

The bill makes provision that any person who employs a girl under the age of 18 years in a restaurant or hotel, without the consent of the parent or guardian, is liable to a fine of $200 and costs, or in default, to six months in jail.

TO APPOINT OFFICERS

Provision is also made for the lieutenant-governor-in-council to appoint the following officers: superintendent of child welfare, a deputy superintendent, a psychiatrist, and probation and other officers who may be required from time to time.

A consolidating act, the new legislation calls for repeal of older acts dealing with child welfare and juvenile delinquency.

It was forecast in the Speech from the Throne that legislation concerning child welfare was to be brought into the House, after a provincial committee which has investigated child welfare and juvenile delinquency, had submitted its report.

Hold Boys' Rally At Bissell Gym

Bissell gymnasium was the scene of a boys' rally Wednesday evening when 160 Trail Ranger and Explorer boys gathered from the four centres of All Peoples' Mission, Beverly, Forest Heights, Buchanan and Bissell. In addition, a group of boys from 56 Street and 124 Avenue attended.

The rally took the form of a banquet, followed by a sing-song and talks by two guest speakers, Frank Drayton, head of children's welfare for Edmonton, and Captain Cox, chaplain of the United States Army here. Mr. Drayton spoke on the value of good sportsmanship and clean play. Captain Cox, in his talk, likened the living of one's life to a race or athletic contest which requires a strong heart, clean and healthy body and a goal ahead on which one must keep his eye. Each of the 10 groups presented banners characterized by color and originality. Four Mission challenge cups for hockey, basketball, football and volleyball were on display. During the latter part of the evening the boys enjoyed moving pictures.

The Rev. J. T. Stephens and Douglas Carr were in charge of arrangements, assisted by Bill Nakamura, Fred Inuiye and Bert Loree.

Hi-School Hi-Lights

McDOUGALL By Reva Taradash

A crowd of enthusiastic girls and boys remained at school during lunch hour Wednesday, to participate in the penny parade, sponsored by the Girls Hi-Y. Room 13 which led the contributions with a total of $7.05, did much in boosting the total to $30. This winning room has been given the privilege of donating the money to the war effort.

Wednesday was "pigtail Abigail day" at Commercial. Most of the girls in true school spirit wore brightly colored ribbons in their hair. Next week there'll be a "backwards day" when all the girls will wear their sweaters and skirts backwards.

There was a large turn out at the sleigh ride held Friday. Afterwards, there was dancing at the school followed by tasty refreshments.

Amid shouts of laughter and the ring of bells, two heavily laden sleighs set out from Varsity High last Friday night. After two hours of bumps and snowball fights, the participants dragged their weary bodies back to the school, where chocolate milk and doughnuts were served. Miss Doris Sheppard was chaperone. All those present agreed that the sleigh ride was one of the most successful affairs held this year.

The Students' Council is planning several events in the future. A "Lit" will be held next Friday. On Monday, March 6, skating enthusiasts and jitterbugs of Varsity High will gather at Garneau rink for a skating party and moccasin dance.

Also, the council has chosen a design for the school pin, and this year's supply has been ordered.

It was generally agreed that the second "Lit" of the year, held Friday, was a great success, featuring as it did, certain numbers in honor of the birthday of Lincoln, including the Gettysburg address by Jim Drysdale, the United States national anthem, and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" by Paula Woody. This was followed by one-act play, "The Noble Lord," with Anna Peterson, Gordon Shiplett and Bob Chisholm. Vocal and violin selections by Shirley McDonald and Jack Fowler were followed by tap dancing by Clem Kerr. Much of the success of this program was due to the efforts of Miss Manser, dramatics teacher, and Gordon

MY DAY

WASHINGTON—On Friday night Mr. Joe E. Brown dined with us. He has probably made the most complete tour of the fighting forces of any entertainer. I know of no one who has met the great sorrow of losing his son more gallantly, and I think his fine spirit is one of the reasons for his great popularity with the boys. A heavy heart must have been hidden often while he made the boys laugh—but he made them laugh, and I am quite sure that while doing so he lightened his own burden. The President and I were very happy to have him here and to hear about his trips.

Yesterday I went to the National Symphony concert, and for the first time I heard Symphony Number One by Robert E. Ward. This young composer is now in the army, and I hope that like many other musicians, he is finding some important work to do there. I also enjoyed the American Concertette number by Morton Gould which was new to me. There were many servicemen in the audience, and one can understand why people like Mr. Edwin McArthur tell you they always find talent in any group they appear before in army war areas. The younger men of talent are now in the army or navy, so that is where you find them.

After the concert, we joined the President at Blair House, which he was going over for the first time. The State Department uses this beautiful old and historic house to entertain important guests when they leave the White House, and to house members of their party whom we cannot take in. You would not want a more delightful atmosphere, or greater comfort and distinction in your surroundings. In the evening at dinner, the

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Man Should Never Wed Woman Superior

Woman's Soul Is Seared With Shame If Mate Not Able to Hold His Own With Other Men; Husband Doesn't Mind Inferior Wife

DEAR MISS DIX: Can an educated, ambitious woman be happy married to an uneducated man with no ambition? I have been going with a young man of fine character, but who has not even a fourth grade education. He can hardly read and write and he is a poor conversationalist. He has no trade or special ability and, therefore, no steady work. I have tried in every way to get him to go to night school, but he refuses to do so.

For myself, I have a high school education only, and after leaving school I secured a position as an ordinary typist and switchboard operator. But I have studied and improved myself until now I am in charge of a department in the office and private secretary to one of the executives.

Do you think that it would be advisable for me to marry this man?

PHYLLIS.

ANSWER: No, I think you would both be miserable.

A marriage may be happy and successful in which the husband is superior to the wife, but never if the wife is superior to the husband. Very often an educated and ambitious man will marry an ignorant and inert woman and seemingly be content with her. Apparently he will not even notice her lapses in grammar, or that she sits up all night and languishes when other people discuss topics of the day or things that they have read in books or magazines.

But it sears a woman's very soul with shame if her husband is not able to hold his own with other men and shows himself ignorant and stupid. To her his blunders are worse than crimes and she could forgive him more readily for a misdeed than for a misspelled word.

There is this great fundamental difference between a man and a woman: A man likes to look down on the woman he loves. He would always prefer his wife to be smaller and weaker in body than he is, and to know less, so that he may be an oracle to her and that is why intelligent men often marry morose and live happily with them.

But a woman must look up to the man she loves. She must respect and admire him, and this she can never do if she knows more than he does and has to be continually trying to correct him.

It is worse still when the wife is driving one, when she is the strong one, who wants to get along, and the husband is lazy and shiftless and purposeless, content to live any old way so long as it does not call for his making any special effort.

That sort of a husband runs an energetic woman frantic because she is forever trying to do the young people enjoyed a movie called "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek." I only stayed for a little while because my desk was piled high with mail, so I missed the most amusing part of it.

Today I gave another luncheon. This morning, I was presented with the first book of "Clipper Air Cheques" to be sold by the Pan American Airways System. This will be a very useful service initiated by Pan American Airways as it will obviate the need of carrying cash and yet make it possible for the traveller to get what money he needs in any of the areas that the company serves.

I have another appeal from an acquaintance of mine who works at night as a helper in the hospitals of a big city. I have read articles about this service and I know that it has been started in a number of cities. Business men, from top executives down, who work hard at their desks during the day, give their time in the late afternoons and evenings to alleviate the shortage of nurses by doing disagreeable work at some hospital. They clean, carry trays, and do any tasks which untrained people can do. This is a most unselfish kind of work, and I am sure that when the need is known, there will be more people doing it than there are at present.

thing that can't be done, to put her own brains into his head, her own pep into his peepless soul, her own backbone into his spineless, jellyfish body. And because he is weak and flabby while she is strong and vital, because the gray mare is the better horse, she comes to despise him and to have only a pitying, contemptuous affection for him that is far and away from the sort of love that a woman wants to feel for a husband.

And no man long loves the wife who is a good in his side, who nails him to the work he hates, who pushes him on to make the effort that he loathes making. Moreover, a man's vanity demands that his wife shall admire him, and when he finds out that he has gotten a critic instead of a claque, he almost invariably forsakes her for some woman who will tell him how great and wonderful he is, instead of how far he falls short of what he should be.

So I think that a woman who is such a hustler as you should marry a man who is go-getter. Leave your unambitious friend to find a wife who knows no more than he does and who will be content to stay in the sphere of life in which it has pleased Heaven to call her.

LOVE

DEAR MISS DIX: Is there such a thing as LOVE? Our group of married people have been discussing it. The men say love is merely a strong attachment. The women say that it is love that brings people together in marriage. Is it true that love is a bigger factor in a woman's life than it is in a man's?

ANSWER: Of course, there is such a thing as love. It begins in sex attraction, but it is more than that. I should say it is sex attraction to which is added congeniality of mind and temperament. That gives us the kind of love that satisfies us, body and soul.

It is sex attraction that draws a man and woman together in the first place, but after that, if they are to continue loving each other, they must be able to think the same thoughts, to understand the same things, to have the same point of view, and the same ideals and aspirations. When you have that, you have the love that lasts, and that makes a couple fonder of each other on their golden wedding day than they were when a boy and girl they stood before the altar.

So the definition of love as a strong attachment is true, particularly of wedded love. The love that comes after people have settled down to the long pull of life, when youthful passion and romance have fled and friendship has taken their place. Then it is that a man and woman come to have that strong attachment for each other that is woven of a thousand unbreakable threads of respect and gratitude and admiration and trust in each other's faith and loyalty. And that is a tie that only death can break.

Yes, I think it is true that love is a bigger factor in a woman's life than it is in a man's. Women live more in their emotions than men do and are more dependent upon love for happiness. Also, they have fewer interests than men have, less that is exciting and diverting in their lives, and so they have more time to think of their feelings. "Man's love is of man's life a thing apart," said the poet, and he was right.

DOES RIGHT

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been engaged to a girl whom I honestly thought I loved, but now I have met another girl and know that for the first time in my life I am really in love. I told my fiancée of the other girl who has come into my life and asked her to release me in order to avoid making three lives miserable. She absolutely refuses to do this and abuses the woman I love. She cannot, or will not, see that it is for her happiness to give me up and I am utterly miserable. What is my duty?

MISERABLE LOVER.

ANSWER: You have done the honorable thing in telling your fiancée of your change of heart and given your duty to yourself and to the girl you love. You have given your old sweetheart a chance to save her face by breaking the engagement, and if she won't do it you should do it.

I say this just as much for her sake as I say it for yours and the other girl's, for no man can do a woman such a deadly wrong as he does by marrying her when he loves another woman. It isn't in human nature for him to be faithful to her, or to keep from hating her and revenging himself upon her for wrecking his happiness.

No woman can force you to marry her unless you want to. She can't drag you to the altar against your will, so brace up and have the courage at least to run away from her, if you can't stand up and fight her.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Each child must learn by experience that when he is bad and deserves punishment it is not because his mother is a cross person, but because badness is an act against his own society.

If he acts as society approves, he is healthier, happier, has more friends, makes the wheels of his household spin more smoothly, decreases the burdens of his parent. To be an outlaw and refuse to heed the rules of his society, as interpreted by his parent, calls for punishment. He has to begin to think of himself as a part of society, not an independent individual who can do as he pleases at whatever cost to himself or others.

One of the mild punishments inflicted upon children who flout the rules of good social living is to isolate them temporarily until they decide they would like to act in a more acceptable, approved manner.

Mrs. T. F. McA. makes a nice point about the use of isolation as a punishment. "Is it not wise," she writes, "when using solitude as a corrective, to be careful of the manner in which it is applied? There are many advantages to the ability to enjoy and profit by solitude and too little of this ability is in evidence today."

"It would be a great mistake to bring up a child to associate solitude with punishment. Rather it would be a better technique to offer it as an opportunity to cool off and think things over."

You are right. Perhaps the confusion lies in failing to make clear that it would be a mistake to bring up a child to associate solitude ONLY with punishment.

The paternal mistake is to feel that the only good punishment is one which makes the child suffer. If isolation is intended to convey to him the idea that when he misbehaves in society (whether that be his playmates or his family) he loses the privilege of that society, he is punished enough when he suffers that loss of privilege.

He need not necessarily find his solitude disagreeable. He may settle down and play happily alone, or, as happens oftener, he may shortly proclaim his desire to be a good boy and come downstairs again. Either result is good.

Happily, in practice, isolation does not sour the child against solitude or the room in which he enjoys it, provided he has freedom there and isolation doesn't last overlong. His enforced solitude outweighed by the more frequent times in which he plays in the same place and has fun.

Our leaflet, "Obedience and Punishment," may be had by sending your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper together with a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Debunker

SMOKE DOES NOT STUPIFY BEES

People who keep bees for producing honey are often observed blowing smoke into the bee hives. The popular belief about this is that the smoke makes the bees sleepy and half-conscious while the bee keeper gets out the honey. This is all nonsense, experts say. Smoke won't stupify bees. The real effect upon the bees is to frighten them—to make them think the hive is on fire. This causes the bees to go and load themselves up to the limit with honey in the bee hive. In this loaded condition, they are in no shape to sting any one or to move very fast. The smoke is only a means to an end.

This gives you 16 ounces of really excellent cough relief—about 4 times as much for your money. Tastes fine—children love it—never spoils.

You can feel this home mixture taking right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases soreness and difficult breathing, and lets you sleep. Once tried, you'll swear by it. ## McCoy Health Service

Many years ago when I first started teaching the theory of food combinations the average person knew little about this important subject. However, people are now much more familiar with the fact that proper food combinations have a great deal to do with continued good health, and more and more, they are realizing that there is a right way to combine foods.

I believe that the food which most people have the most difficulty in learning how to combine correctly is the class of food known as starches.

Starch, when improperly combined with other foods, is especially likely to ferment, giving rise to large amounts of stomach and intestinal gas. Although people in good health, with strong digestive powers, may seem to handle these incorrect starch combinations without very much trouble, patients who have any tendency to digestive disorders, and especially those in whom there is a strong tendency to flatulence or excessive gas, will generally find that starches in wrong combinations, with other foods, will become the source of much digestive unhappiness.

All of my study has convinced me that any patient with a digestive disturbance will discover there is a great deal of practical value to be derived from learning how to combine foods properly. An especial benefit will follow the practice of using starches only in correct combinations.

It will thus be seen that the study of food combinations may be made a great source of help to that large group of patients suffering from digestive troubles. However, the same study is likewise of value to the great army of the well, who will find that proper combination of foods will add to their ease of digestion with the consequence that much less energy will be expended in the digestion of a meal of good combinations than would be the case after a meal made up of in-harmonious combinations.

Some good rules to follow in combining your foods are:

PROTEIN RULE: Any one protein such as meat, may be used with one or more non-starchy vegetables, with the addition of one kind of fruit.

STARCH RULE: Any one starch such as bread, may be used with one or more non-starchy vegetables. Avoid acid fruits with a starchy meal.

FRUIT RULE: One fruit, either raw or cooked, may be used with a protein meal, or with milk, or with any non-starchy vegetable.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. C. Osof of the Presbyterian church, presided. The service was the outcome of a fellowship gathering at which representatives of 50 different nations joined. No barrier of racial or national misunderstanding separated them, as these brothers and sisters in Christ coming from all parts of the world joined in earnest prayer to God their Father. The benediction was given by Mrs. Osof.

FO. and Mrs. W. Gwynne Guests Of Honor at Norwood Reception

More than 100 guests called at the Norwood home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Sanderson, one afternoon recently, when they entertained at a reception for their daughter, Mrs. W. D. Gwynne, the former Miss Rita Sanderson, and their son-in-law, FO. Gwynne, R.C.A.F., who were married about two weeks ago. FO. Gwynne returned recently from overseas.

The drawing room was arranged with bouquets of yellow daffodils.

To receive her guests, Mrs. Sanderson wore an afternoon ensemble of sailor blue complemented by a corsage of cerise and white carnations. Mrs. Gwynne was smart in a black street length dress accented by pink carnations en corsage. The bride wore a dainty frock of powder blue, and a corsage of pink rose buds.

A champagne colored, crocheted cloth covered the tea table, which was centred by a three tiered wedding cake. Spring flowers completed the arrangement.

Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. R. B. Catt, Mrs. D. Blackley, Mrs. C. Cameron, Mrs. A. Quick and Mrs. L. Moir. Servers were Mrs. C. Butchart, Miss Betty LeMotte, Miss Ella Marskell, Miss Aileen Stanton, Miss Rae Summer-ville and Miss Dorothy Gordon.

Showing the bride's wedding gifts were Mrs. D. Schell and Mrs. W. Milroy.

It is estimated that a pound of honey represents the life work of about 1,000 bees.

HELP THE RED CROSS

IN THE FRONT LINE BATTLE AGAINST DEATH

You'd say the war is over for this warrior—that Death is merely waiting to finish the job. And you'd be right if it weren't for that thin line of blood serum. It's "liquid life" provided by the Red Cross—somebody's gift from the heart. Because of it, life is beginning all over again for him. He'll live to fight on!

Countless more lives on the battlefronts will yet depend on blood serum. An increasing flow of it must arrive continuously, for Death takes no holiday. The blood itself is being cheerfully spared by voluntary donors. But what about equipping and maintaining the Blood Donor Clinics? That takes a lot of money. Blood Donors must be backed by Money Donors!

Right now the urgent appeal is to YOU to help the Red Cross in their front-line battle against death, disease and pain. The need grows as Victory nears! Obey the dictates of your own heart—GIVE of your money Generously.

17 Bills Get Third Reading, Four Others Are Held Over

When the Legislature met in committee of the whole Friday afternoon to consider legislation which has been introduced at this session, 17 bills were reported to the Speaker for third reading, and four others were held over for further discussion.

Reward Offered For Information Of Lost Plane

The United States Army Air Force at Edmonton will pay $100 to any person, other than military personnel, providing information leading to the discovery of any lost or disabled plane pilot or crew member, belonging to the U.S.A.A.F., regardless of whether the personnel found are dead or alive.

Notices to this effect have been posted in several city offices and the rewards are apparently posted with a particular aim of stimulating greater public interest throughout the northwestern bush areas where army planes are occasionally lost in storms or through mechanical failure.

Any person having information that might lead to finding of lost air force personnel is urged to get such information without delay to any of the following:

Any office of the U.S. Army: R.C. M.P. post, provincial police establishment, railway office, government office, or Hudson's Bay Co. post.

Air force headquarters in Edmonton reserves the right to apportion the reward as it deems proper in cases where more than one person has made the discovery.

NO TRACE

Posting of the reward recalls that no trace has as yet been found of the plane piloted by Lt. Col. Menzies, with 11 persons aboard that went missing one night in February of 1943, while on a routine flight north from Edmonton. The machine is believed to have crashed during a snowstorm in the Fort St. John area.

Another plane, southbound from Whitehorse, missing on the same night, was found by R.C.A.F. searching planes 19 days later.

Although the pilot and co-pilot were killed in the crash, two others, a U.S.A.A.F. sergeant, and a civilian passenger, were rescued after a long ordeal in the open in bitter cold weather. The men suffered broken limbs and frostbite.

Sask. Legislature Continues Debate On Farm Policy

REGINA, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Debate on the resolution of G. H. Danielson (L-Ann River) setting out Liberal farm policies was continued in the Saskatchewan legislature yesterday.

Under discussion also was the sub-amendment made Thursday by Omer Demers (L-Shellbrook) to the amendment of Jacob Benson (C.C.F.-Last Mountain).

Discussion centred on the merits and demerits of planned agricultural production and government marketing boards.

Opposition Leader J. H. Bruckelbank criticized the sub-amendment to the amendment for failure to recommend agricultural planning, and he supported the proposal of the amendment favoring public or co-operative ownership of the meat packing and milling industries.

College Students Combat Socialism

WINNIPEG, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Senior students in the commerce faculty at the University of Manitoba have published a new student newspaper with the announced purpose of combating Socialist thought on the campus. Further publication of the paper, which was called "Commoncents," was declared "indefinite" owing to "problems of finance."

Feared Killed

LEEDS, England, Feb. 26.—(CP)—Sgt. Ldr. Geoffrey Warnes, D.S.O., D.F.C., a native of this Yorkshire town, whose contact lens glasses over his eyeballs to correct an eyesight impairment, is missing, believed killed.

Highlands Residents Planning Construction of Community Hall

Construction of the proposed $10,000 Highlands and district community hall will be discussed at a meeting of the residents of the district which will be held Monday Feb. 28 in the Highlands school.

Dr. H. C. Newland, president of the Highlands Community League, an old-time resident of the district, is appealing to the residents to come forward with their ideas or suggestions for plans for financing, and building the hall.

The community league, realizing the need for a modern hall in the Highlands, appointed a promotional and publicity committee to make a survey of the area and find out what measure of financial support will be given. The committee consists of Mrs. Gerald Rice, Fred Kidd, Stewart Graham, Sid Gray, Bill Winkler, F. X. Frederickson, and chairman Art Smart.

According to architects and contractors, $10,000 would be required to build a hall suitable for meeting the requirements of the Highlands and district.

The present proposal is to erect a building that would provide space and facilities for badminton, basketball, push-ball, handball, quarts, shuffleboard, indoor horseshoes, table tennis, and many other indoor games.

A good sized stage, with dressing rooms, that would afford opportunity for entertainment, where adults and children of the community could participate in giving plays and other entertainments also is proposed. The stage would be equipped with a motion picture screen suitable for educational pictures.

The hall is to have a large floor space where every social event could be held and where all persons in the community could get together and enjoy themselves.

Supporters of the project claim the greatest advantage of such a building would be for the young people of the community. There would be room for scouts and cubs meetings as well as brownies and guides. Many other community clubs could utilize the building.

GROWING DISTRICT

Officials state that their community has been growing and developing.

Claim Allies Plan Attacks on France From Three Sides

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(CP-Reuters)—The Swiss newspaper La Suisse said yesterday that Germans are speculating a plan providing for simultaneous landings in Brittany, Northern France and the Marseilles area.

The paper called this a "strategie de Gaulle plan" and said the Germans are considering that its object would be to cut France in two, isolate her from Spain and alter the strategic position in Italy.

German press reports, the paper said, describe Sarlinia and Corsica as large-scale Allied military bases.

RED DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE WITH BAKED FROSTING

Cake pan, 12½x9x2; temperature, 350 deg.; time, 1 hour. Mix together:

- ½ cup water
- 1½ teaspoons soda
- ½ cup cocoa

Allow to stand while mixing other ingredients. Cream 2-3 cup butter with 1½ cups sugar; add, one at a time, 2 eggs. Beat well. - 2 cups of finely chopped pork fat

- 1½ cups boiling water
- 1 cup currants
- ½ cup citron
- 1 cup raisins
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup molasses
- 6 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons soda

Add flour mixture alternating with buttermilk, mixing well after each addition. Pour into a greased pan 8x8x2 inches and bake in a moderate oven 350 deg. F. 45 minutes or until done. - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

ORANGE BANANA SPLIT SALAD

Cut bananas lengthwise and lay on lettuce. Top with round slices of orange. French dressing or lemon may be added. Sprinkle walnuts on top. A strawberry in centre of orange is very tasty.

MOLASSES AND MINCEMEAT CAKE

  - 1-3 cup lard
  - 4 eggs
  - 1 cup milk
  - 2 lbs. mincemeat
  - 1 can molasses

Soups

TOMATO SOUP

- ½ cup canned tomatoes
  - ¼ teaspoon soda
  - Mix together while cold
  - 4 cups milk (cold)
  - salt and pepper to taste
- By mixing all ingredients at the same temperature it prevents curdling.

TOMATO SOUP

- ½ bushel tomatoes
  - 2 bunches celery
  - 7 onions
  - 14 bay leaves
  - 12 teaspoons of salt
  - 1 cup brown sugar
  - 1½ teaspoons black pepper
  - ¼ teaspoon cayenne
  - 14 sprigs parsley
- Boil together ¾ hour. Strain, then add 1½ cups flour mixed with a little of the soup. Bring to a boil and can hot.

VEGETABLE CREAM SOUP

- 4 large potatoes
  - 1 onion
  - 1 bunch celery
  - 3 carrots
  - 2 slices bacon
  - 2 quarts water
  - salt and pepper to taste
  - 1 cup rich milk or cream
  - minced parsley
- Clean and prepare vegetables, and put them through coarse food chopper. Cook the slices of bacon on bottom of saucepan until they are crisp, pour vegetables over them, add water, salt and pepper. Simmer slowly for one hour, then strain through a coarse sieve, add the milk and cream, minced parsley and serve hot. This makes six servings.

Icing

Beat 2 egg whites until stiff, add slowly 1 cup brown sugar, beat with egg beater until it will hold shape and spread on cooled cake. Flavor with vanilla.

FEATHER CAKE

- ¼ cup of butter or shortening
- 1 cup of sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 cups sifted pastry flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon of flavoring
- ½ teaspoon of salt, a little more if shortening is used

Cream butter with the sugar, add the egg and beat till well mixed, then add the sifted flour, and baking powder, and salt; add the milk and flavoring. Mix thoroughly and place in tin lined with greased paper. Bake in a steady, but quick oven, about 350 degrees. Also place a small pan of water in the oven, if gas is used for baking; it helps prevent cake from burning.

Caramel Icing

- 1 cup of brown sugar
  - 2 tablespoons of hot water
- Boil 2½ minutes. After it starts to bubble, beat the white of an egg and pour syrup on this, and beat until ready to pour on cake.

- 3 tablespoons shortening
- 1 pound hamburger
- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- ½ cup uncooked rice
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 2 teaspoons salt

Cook onions and green pepper slowly in shortening until onions are yellow. Add hamburger and fry until mixture crumbles. Add tomatoes, rice and seasonings and mix. Put in large greased casserole, cover, and bake in moderate oven about 45 minutes.

HAM AND EGG MOULDS

Cooked ham or tongue, bread-crumbs, butter, 1 egg per person, pepper and salt, parsley, toast. Grease a small mould or cup for each person and sprinkle into each a little chopped ham or tongue. Break an egg into each. Sprinkle over with a few breadcrumbs and add pepper and salt and a small piece of butter. Cover with grease-proof paper and steam gently for 15 minutes. Pass a knife around edges of cups and turn out on to round pieces of toast. Sprinkle with chopped parsley or serve with sliced tomatoes.

LUNCHEON DISH

Cut unpeeled red apples in ¼-inch slices. Sprinkle each slice with sugar, dot with butter and broil slowly under low heat. Pan fry pork sausages. Make toast (trimmed). On each slice of toast place a hot apple slice, then two sausages. Top with a slice of cheese. Place under low heat until cheese is melted. Serve immediately with a tossed green salad.

SCALLOPED CORN AND SAUSAGE

Brown ¼ lb. pork sausage meat. Pour off all fat except about 2 tablespoons. Add 3 tablespoons flour and stir until blended; then add 1½ cups milk and stir until mixture boils and thickens. Add one can (1½ cups) corn, ½ teaspoon salt and 1-1½ teaspoon pepper. Turn into a shallow casserole and arrange thick slices of tomato over the top. Place under broiler for 3 or 4 minutes to cook tomatoes. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley.

SCALLOPED HAM AND POTATOES

1 thick slice ham
4 cups sliced potatoes
2 small onions
2 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper
2 cups milk
Method: Cut ham in 6 portions, place 1/3 of potatoes in greased casserole, over these slice 1 onion and sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper; lay on these 3 pieces of ham. Repeat the layer and place the balance of potatoes on top. Pour milk over all and bake 1 hour in a moderate oven.

HAM AND POTATOES

Unusual Variation of a Tasty Casserole

This is a delicious, wholesome dish which never fails to make any family call for a second helping. Peel and slice six large potatoes and place them in a large casserole dish, salt and pepper to taste, cover potatoes with one or two large slices of uncooked cured ham. Pour over this one quart of sweet milk, cover and bake until the potatoes and the ham are done. Serves six persons.

HOT DOGS AND ROLLS FOR SUPPER

Rolls: Dissolve 1 yeast cake in 1 cup lukewarm water. Add 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon lard, and then another cup of water, and 4 cups flour. Knead and let rise until double in bulk. Shape in rolls and bake in a hot oven for 25 minutes. Split open, put in hot wiener. Spread with mustard or fried onions. Tasty supper dish.

RUM TUM TIDDY

1 can condensed tomato soup
½ lb. Canadian cheese, grated
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 egg, slightly beaten
6 slices toast.
Heat the soup and cheese over hot water. Stir until cheese is melted; add mustard; add to egg slowly, mixing well. Serve hot on toast. Serves 4.

CHICKEN CHOP SUEY

- 1 lb. shredded chicken or chicken and veal (traditional shape of meat is 2-in. strips, ¼-inch square)
- ¼ cup oil (sesame oil is proper, but cooking oil or butter will do)
- 1 cup peeled and sliced mushrooms
- 1 cup shredded celery (shredded diagonally is most attractive)
- 1 onion sliced very thin
- 2 cups bean sprouts (these may be bought from proprietors of Chinese restaurants)
- 2 cups white stock (if no chicken broth is available, hot water may be used).

Green peppers are a nice addition when you can get them. Sauté the meat in oil or butter until lightly brown. Return fat to pan and add mushrooms, celery, onion and peppers if used. Sauté 5 minutes. Add cooked meat and sprouts and stock. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Serve with fluffy boiled rice. Pass soy sauce at table.

CHILI CON CARNE

- 1 onion diced
- 1 tablespoon fat
- 2 cups cooked tomatoes
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 2 cups red kidney beans
- ½ teaspoon chili powder
- ½ teaspoon salt

Method, brown onion in the fat, add remaining ingredients, cover and simmer 20 minutes, add water if mixture becomes too dry. An appetizing addition of vegetables makes this dish still more delicious, celery curls and carrot rings which have been prepared ahead of time and let stand in ice cold water. To make celery curls cut the stalks into 2-inch lengths, slash down 6 or 8 times for half an inch at end, and let stand in ice water for an hour. To prepare the carrots, split lengthwise, and with the edge of an apple corer, cut thin lengthwise slices. Drop into ice cold water and they will curl into crispy rings.

CHILI CON CARNE (MEAT STRETCHER)

- 1 lb. hamburger
  - 1½ cups dried beans, soaked overnight
  - 2 cups tomatoes or juice
  - 2 large onions, salt and enough chili powder to suit taste.
- Fry onions and meat until lightly browned, then cooked beans and remainder of ingredients; put all in cooker or in oven, add water, about 1 quart, and cook slowly. Slow, long cooking ensures success.

SPAGHETTI OVEN DINNER

- 12 small onions
- ¼ lb. grated cheese
- ½ lb. sausage
- ¼ teaspoon pepper.
- 1 15-ounce can spaghetti, tomato sauce and cheese.

Parboil onions until tender. Arrange around edge of shallow greased bake dish, sprinkle with cheese. Brown sausage, cut in half, combine with spaghetti and turn in bake dish. Bake in moderate oven.

FOAMY FROSTING

- 1 egg white
- ½ cup corn syrup
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Sweeten berries and let stand 1/4 hour, drain; add water to juice to make 2 1/2 cups. Combine fruit juice and water, tapioca, sugar and salt in saucepan and mix well. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire (mixture will be thin, do not overcook), add fruit and lemon juice. Cool, stirring occasionally—mixture thickens as it cools. Chill. Serve in parfait or sherbet glasses if desired, garnish with whipped cream and whole berry. Serves 6 or 8. Use strawberries, raspberries, blueberries or other fresh berries in this recipe. Vary lemon juice according to acidity of berries. Use 4 tablespoons tapioca for thinner pudding.

RHUBARB, FIG MARMALADE

3 pounds rhubarb
4 pounds sugar
1 pound figs.

Let rhubarb and sugar simmer until dissolved. Wash figs and put through meat chopper. Add to rhubarb and boil 1 hour.

CRANBERRY JELLY

4 cups cranberries
2 cups sugar
2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons gelatin
3 tablespoons cold water.

1 pint vinegar
3 cups sugar.

PRESERVED STRAWBERRIES

4 cups fruit
2 cups white sugar

Boil 5 minutes. Add 2 more cups white sugar and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Boil 12 to 15 minutes. Let stand over night and bottle when cold. When fruit is washed pour boiling water over and let stand for a few minutes and drain. Then proceed with method as above. They keep their color.

6 lbs. pineapple fruit cleaned and cut in cubes
3½ lbs. white sugar
3 pints water

Make a syrup of sugar and water. Add pineapple and boil 10 to 15 minutes and seal in hot sterilized jars.

WAR TIME JAM

Cook the fruit in its own juice or if necessary use a little water to start with. Use sugar proportion as for canning, ½ pound sugar to 1 pound fruit or ½ cup sugar to 1 cup fruit. When the fruit is thoroughly cooked and reduced to a pulp yet a little too thick for jam, stir in corn starch blended with a little cold water, using 1 tablespoon of corn starch to each pound or each 2 cups of sugar used. Stir constantly till corn starch is all cooked. If not quite thick enough a little more may be added. The use of corn starch saves sugar and prolonged boiling. The jam is milder and retains more of the fruit taste. Good enough for peace time.

Precooking Fruits Will Save Juice for Packing

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

"In canning, precook the fruit to draw out the juice," advises Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics. "In that way you can pack it hot in its own juice, and in many cases don't have to can any added water."

To draw the juices of fruits such as cherries, berries, and plums, sweeten the fruit slightly, then heat it very slowly, just to the boiling point. Keep it from scorching by stirring it from time to time if you set the pan directly on the stove.

SEPARATE RIPER FRUITS

Usually it's best to separate the riper fruits from those that are less ripe. Then you can crush these riper fruits, heat them, and extract juice from them. Preheat the less ripe fruit, which you have set aside, in this juice. Add sugar to sweeten slightly if necessary. Fill the jars. Make sure there is plenty of juice to cover the fruit. Process in a water bath. If you like, crush all the fruit and heat it as suggested above. Add sugar or not as you like and can this crushed fruit to use later in shortcakes, frozen desserts, puddings and pies.

Precooking helps save sugar when you're canning or making jellies and preserves.

Certain varieties of peaches and pears may not yield enough of their own juice to make the canning liquid. You'll get more juice from these fruits if you slice them and add a little sugar before you precook them. If there isn't enough juice to cover fruit in the cans, use syrup to fill the jars—a syrup made from 1 or more cups of sugar to 1 quart water.

By Gainers'

VIRGINIA BAKED HAM

(As suggested by Miss Esther Prevey, B.Sc.)

Place a 12 to 15 lb. Gainers' Superior ham in cold water over night, if desired. Remove, put in kettle, cover with boiling water to which add 1½ cups dark brown sugar, 6 whole cloves, and 1 No. 2½ tin tomatoes. Cover and boil very slowly for 5 hours. Remove from stove and let ham cool in liquid.

Remove ham from liquid, trim surplus fat, and sprinkle with a little black pepper and cloves.
Make paste, using 1 cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons honey, 1 cup bread crumbs. Spread this over ham, patting on firmly. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 1 hour, or until brown. Serve garnished with pineapple rings.

HAM LOAF

1½ lbs. uncooked Superior

Smoked Ham

1 cup bread crumbs

½ cup chili sauce or catsup

2 tablespoons water

1 egg

Pepper to taste

3 hard boiled eggs

Grind ham, add crumbs (which should be stale, not dry), chili sauce, water, slightly beaten egg and pepper. Mix well. Pack into a greased loaf pan, arranging the hard boiled eggs end to end through centre. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Chill and serve. (Serves 8.)

CHEESE WRAPS

5 slices bread (cut lengthwise)

½ lb. cheese

½ teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons Gainers' Pure

Lard

Cayenne pepper

1 small onion (chopped)

1 pimento (chopped)

¼ cup catsup

Sliced Superior bacon

Spread slices of bread with above mixture and roll lengthwise. Place in refrigerator until required for use. Then cut in slices about one inch thick. Roll one slice of bacon around each. Broil until bacon is cooked.

CHOCOLATE CAKE

1½ cups sugar

½ cup Gainers' Pure Lard

2 or 3 eggs

2-3 cup buttermilk

1 teaspoon soda dissolved

in milk

1½ cup flour

5 tablespoons chocolate or cocoa dissolved in hot water

Mix in order given.

DOUGHNUTS

2 eggs beaten lightly

2 tablespoons melted Gainers'

Pure Lard

3 cups flour

1 teaspoon cinnamon

3 teaspoons baking powder

1 teaspoon salt

1 cup sugar

1 cup milk

Have board well floured and take out one large spoon of dough.
Knead gently till firm enough to roll out and cut. Mix trimmings with fresh spoonful and roll out, repeating until all of mixture is used. Cook in Gainers' Pure Lard hot enough to make them rise instantly to the top.

TO CLARIFY USED LARD

After using lard reheat adding thinly sliced raw potato and allow to cook until it becomes brown on both sides. Strain lard through thin cheesecloth. It can then be used again.

SAUSAGES (Spanish Style)

1 doz. Superior sausages

6 slices Superior Bacon

1 can tomato soup (dilute before using)

2 carrots (chopped)

1 cup corn

2 peppers (chopped)

3 onions (sliced)

1 teaspoon sugar

1 tablespoon Gainers' Pure

Lard

Seasoning

Wrap 2 sausages in a strip of bacon and fasten with small wooden skewer, and partly cook these six bundles on broiling pan. Arrange in casserole with the mixed chopped vegetables, and dot with lard. Sprinkle sugar on top, add seasoning, and pour the diluted soup over all. Bake at 325 degrees until everything is well cooked.

MOTHER'S TEA CAKES

1-3 cup Gainers' Pure Lard

1 cup sugar

½ teaspoon salt

2 eggs

1½ cups flour

1 teaspoon baking powder

½ cup milk

½ teaspoon vanilla

Cream Gainers' Pure Lard, sugar and salt together. Beat until light and soft. Add well beaten eggs and mix thoroughly. Mix and sift flour and baking powder and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Add vanilla. Beat thoroughly and pour into well-greased shallow baking pan. Bake in hot oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes. When partly cool, dust with powdered sugar, cut in squares and serve while warm.

FRENCH FRIED CALVES LIVER AND BACON

Soak 1 lb. calves liver in salt water for half an hour. Scald with boiling water. Drain and cut in 3-inch strips. Moisten with French Dressing and let stand one hour.
Drain and dry. Then fry in deep hot Gainers' Pure Lard from three to five minutes. Drain on unglazed paper.

Garnish with crisp Gainers' Superior Bacon and serve hot.

RICH PIE CRUST

2 cups flour

¾ cup Gainers' Pure Lard

½ teaspoon salt

Cold water

Mix flour and salt, cutting in Gainers' Pure Lard until mixture is like fine meal. Mix to a paste with ice water. Roll out thin into two crusts, keeping as cold as possible.

BAKED HAM A LA GAINER

Place a whole or half Gainers' Superior Ham in boiling water for ten minutes, then reduce flame and simmer for 2 hours. Take the Ham from water and remove rind with exception of shank end. Place in baking pan fat side up and bake slowly for an hour, basting frequently with one cup vinegar and one cup hot water in which one level teaspoon of dry mustard has been dissolved. Rub fat surface with brown sugar. Return to oven and without further basting bake until tender.

(It will require about 30 minutes to the pound to properly bake a ham with this method. Apples halved and cored may be baked around the ham for the last half hour and served as a garnish.)
